LAKEWOOD HIGH SCHOOL, LAKEWOOD, OHIO

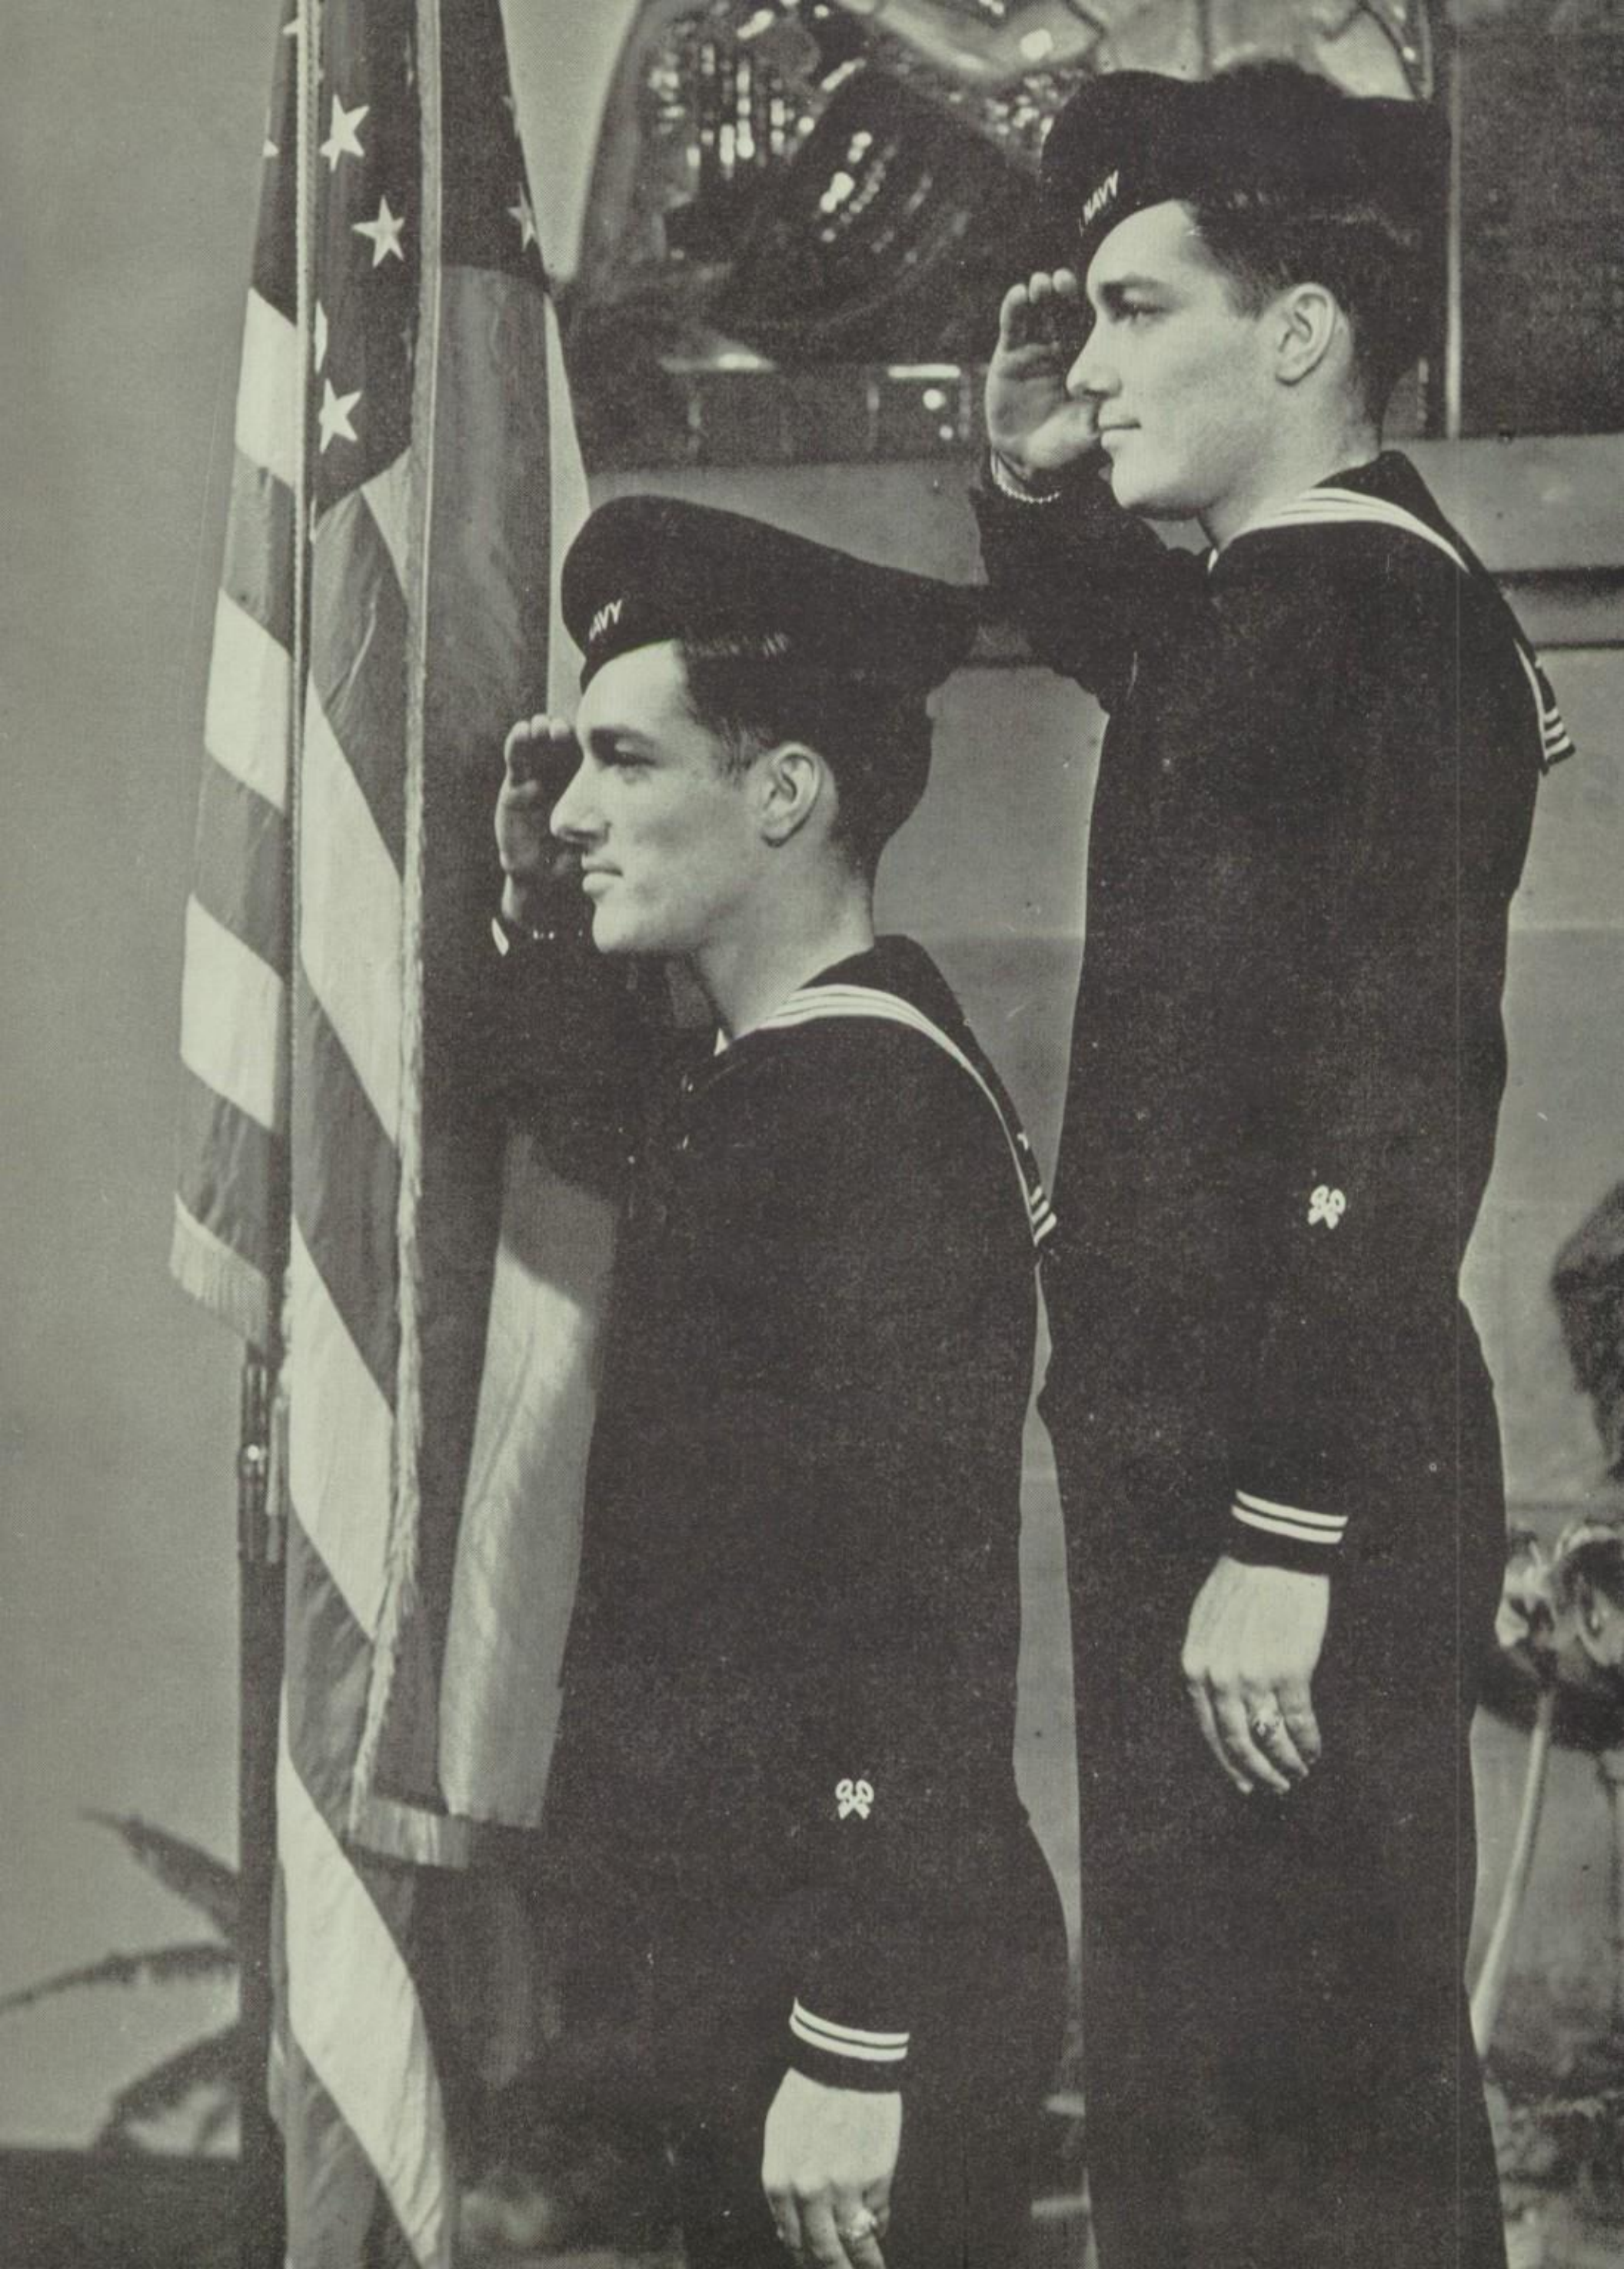

THE CINEMA

FOR the Lakewood High School alumni scattered from the Aleutians to England, the 1944 Cinema Staff has made this book, a record of a year at Lakewood High School. This year has been like other years in its routine demand of homework, tests, and organizations; but it has been unique in the fact that not only has every activity been tinged by our support of the war effort, but we have come to a deep realization of the truth that solving the problem of war means solving the problems of peace.

The democratic ideals for which Lakewood's alumni are fighting are those on which Lakewood has sought to base its curriculum: education for freedom and tolerance. Democracy will fail when the mass of people are not sufficiently educated to carry the responsibility of self-government, and with its failure will come enslavement and intolerance.

An educated man is not one trained in a single restricted subject, but one who has a liberal background. Since these things are so, the whole man, then, must be educated. The curricular and extra curricular activities of Lakewood High School offer a means of developing the entire personality. Lakewood High is striving to educate its students so that its alumni will be capable, responsible men and women in their America.

While our alumni, intent upon destroying the enemy and his fascist ideals, are waging war from the decks of battleships and aircraft carriers like the Wasp, from the gun turrets of flying fortresses and Spitfires, on the Jap-infested islands of Bougainville and Truk, and over the Nazi-dictated lands of Europe . . .

... We are helping them and the war effort by harvesting crops, by collecting waste paper and scrap, by buying war bonds and stamps, by investigating aeronautics and radio. But although winning the war is our first task, we realize that the most important task of the school is preparing to preserve the peace that they are winning.

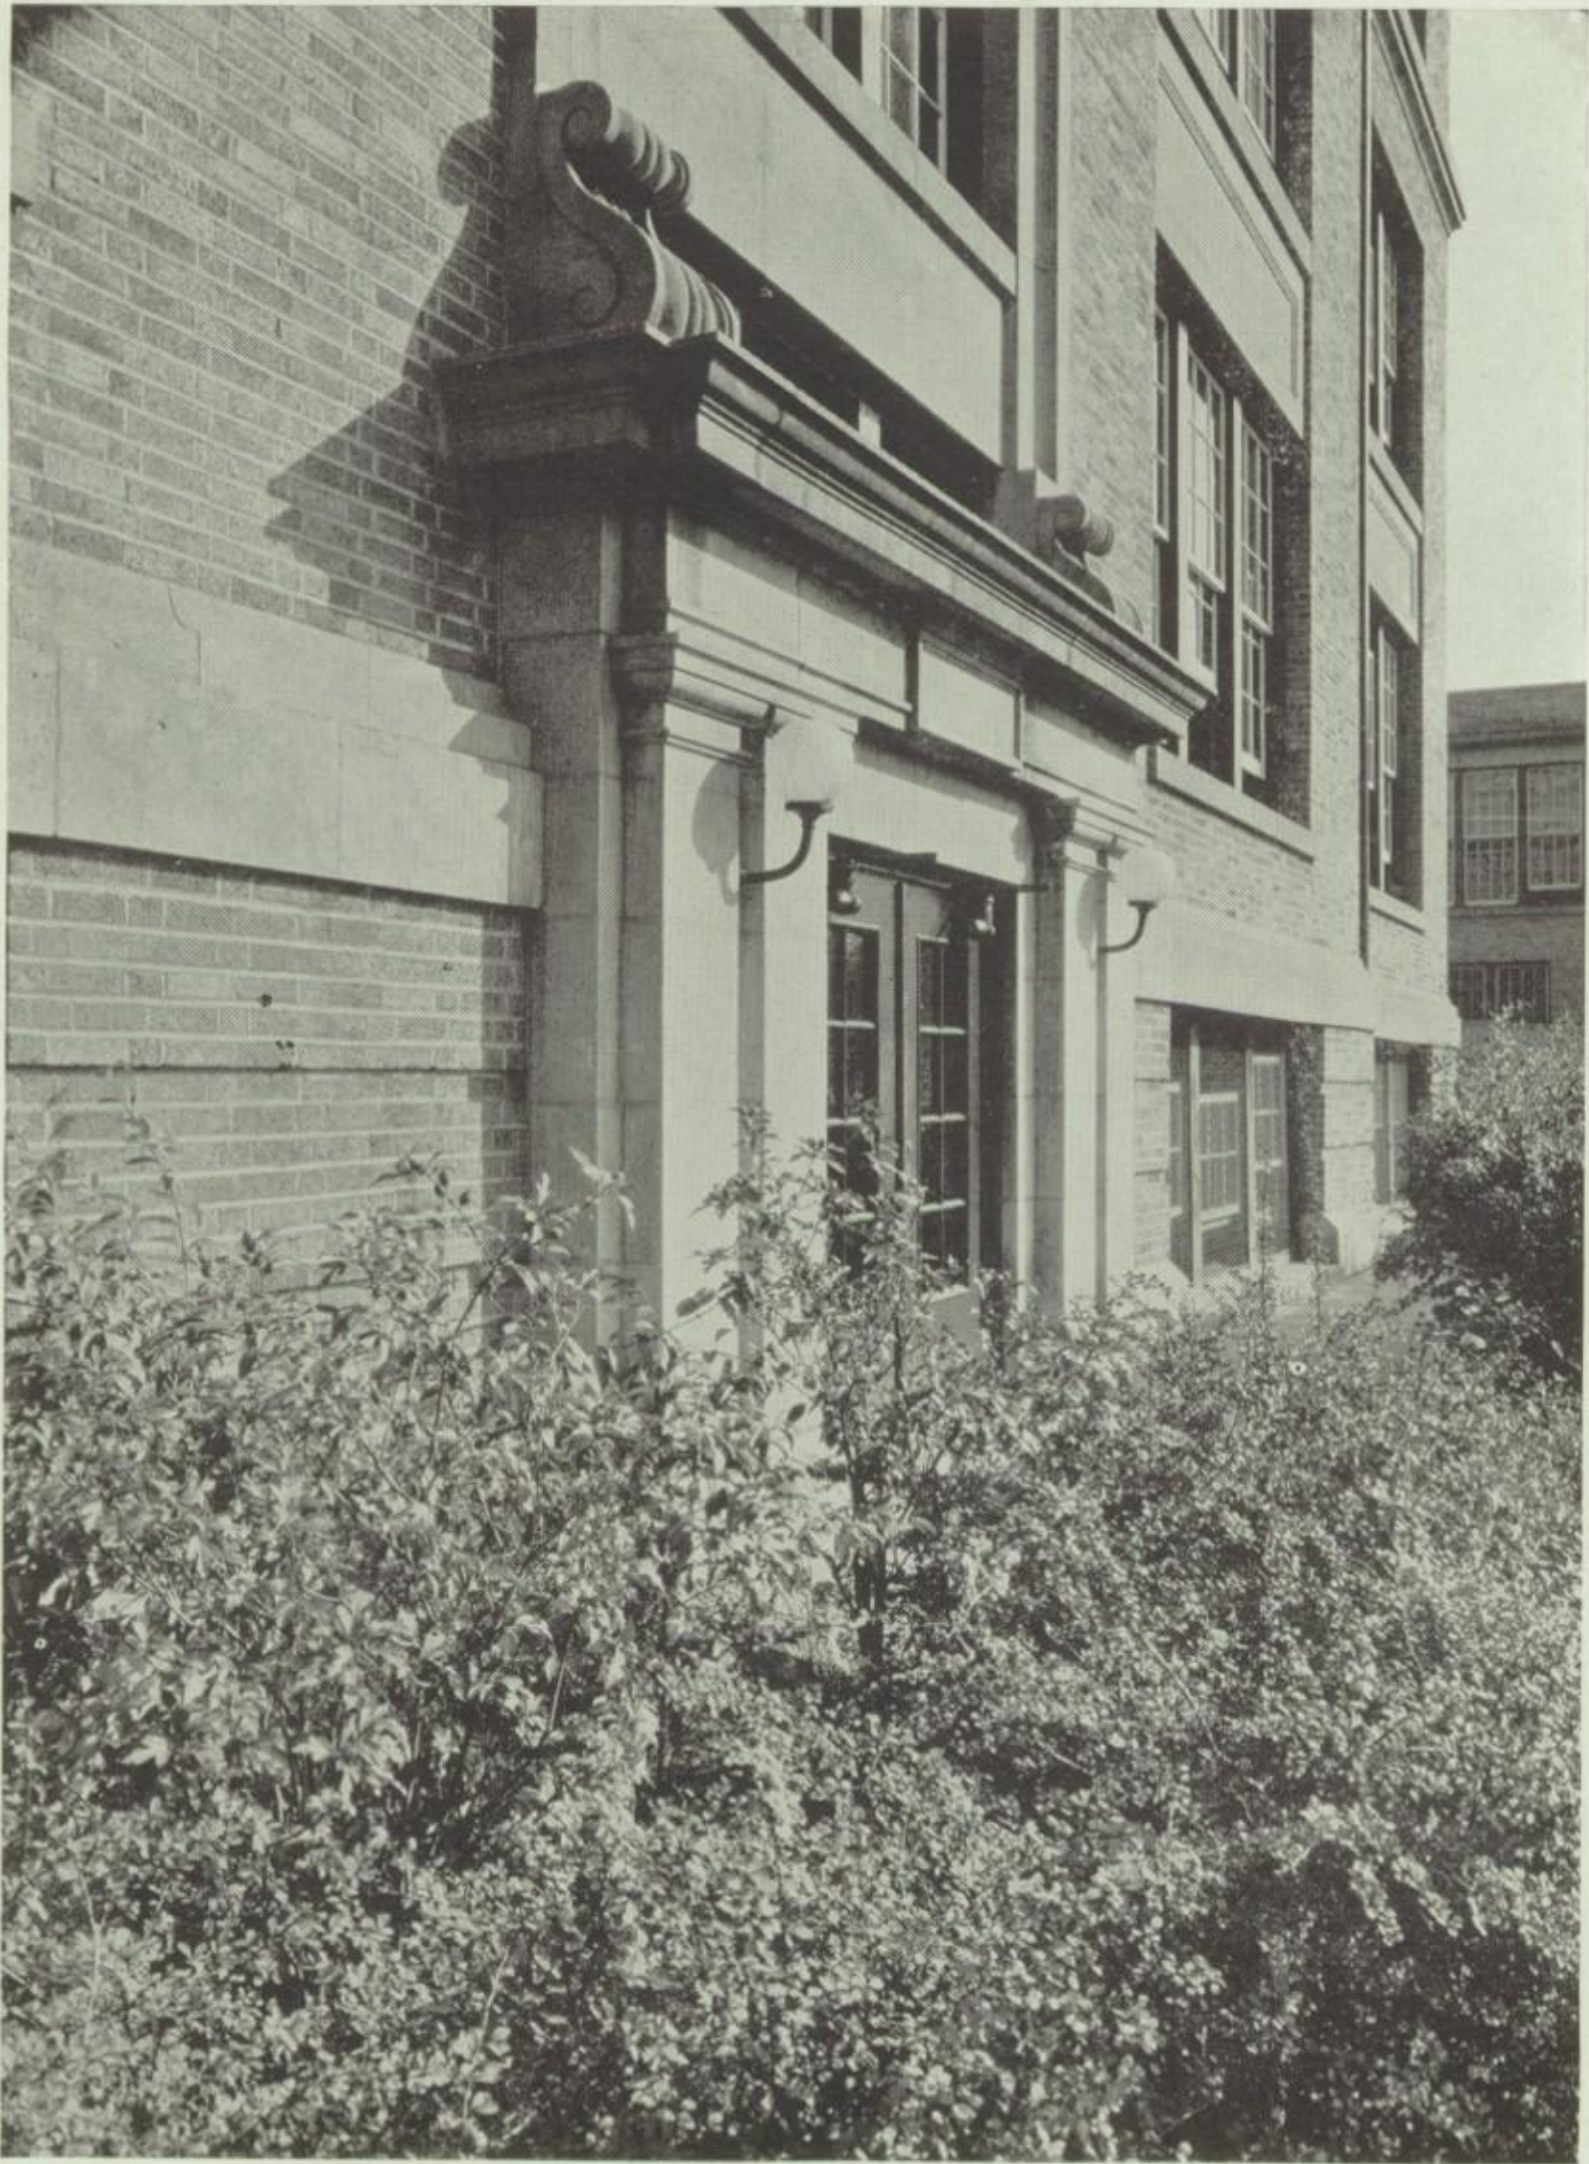

That We May Live in Freedom

In all great wars there are many who are called upon to make sacrifices in order to insure peace and security for others. The following is a list of Lakewood High School boys who have paid the supreme sacrifice in the service of our country since the beginning of World War II. The year in which they graduated or left Lakewood High School is indicated along with a brief description of how they died.

Administration

Dear Bill,

The 1944 Cinema is our answer to your letters from all over the world about what is going on at L.H.S. Of course we're backing the war effort, but we are still doing the things you used to do. Remember Miss Smith's early math class... student council elections... alibis for Mr. Meeko..

Friendly discussion is the democratic way at Lakewood

Leaders Foster Individuality and Group

As the Allied High Command is coordinating the movements of the democratic armies throughout the world, these men and women, Lakewood's Board of Education, are planning the grand strategy of education in Lakewood. Because they understand the significance of the fact that the war may be won but the peace may be lost through misguided or untrained judgment on the part of the citizens, these leaders in the community are striving for the development of well-educated, responsible, cultured citizens. Unselfishly expending much of their time and energy to uphold the high standards of learning for which Lakewood is noted, our Board of Education furnishes the kind of leadership which our schools must have if they are to educate a people who can preserve the peace.

Responsibility in Lakewood Students

Superintendent Paul A. Rehmus has brought to the Lakewood Schools a keen interest in the well-rounded development of boys and girls. His belief that students are capable of directing their own activities, especially in the high school, has fostered a fine spirit of individuality and group responsibility, which is essential to solving the problems of today.

Assistant Superintendent
S. S. Dickey

In every highly efficient organization there is some one man who sees to it that nothing clogs the wheels of progress. Such a man is Mr. Samuel S. Dickey. It is he who has been responsible for those details that mean so much to the complete whole.

Dr. Lawrence E. Vredevoe Principal

Dr. Vredevoe's faith in the youth of today, his personal and dynamic interest in the students of Lakewood have gained him community-wide respect and admiration, and have spurred students to forge ahead in many fields.

Students Confer With Principal

Individual conferences supply Dr. Vredevoe with an insight on thoughts and attitudes of Lakewood High students.

Public Address Unifies School

Public address announcements directly from the principal's office inform the entire student body about school policies.

Advisory

The Executive Council, composed of officers and directors of Student Council, meets each week with Dr. Vredevoe and Miss Kimball to discuss school activities such as student government day and to plan for the regular Student Council meetings.

Groups

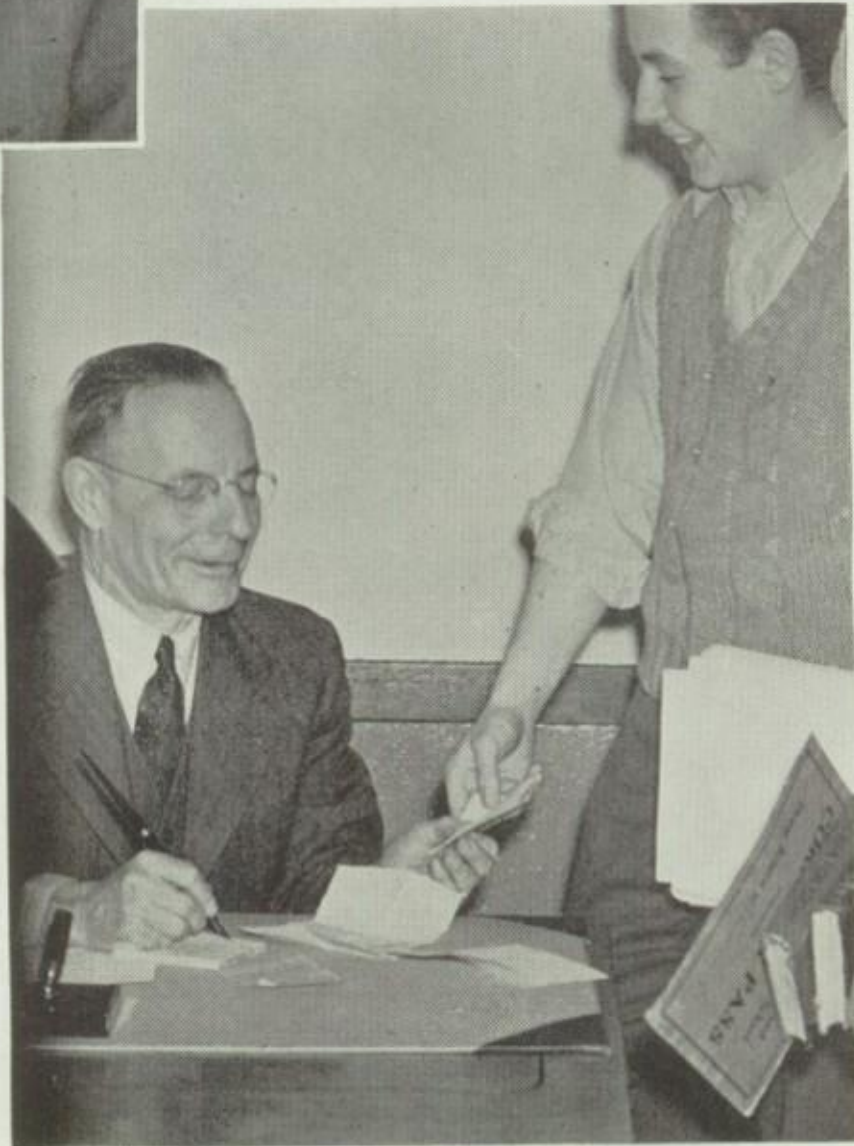

Meeting every week with Dr. Vredevoe is the Faculty Advisory Committee, a group of teachers who assist the home room teachers in planning the students' programs. One of the functions of this group is determining the educational policy of the school.

Mr. Robert L. Meeks
Assistant Principal

Upon the sympathetic and at times unsympathetic ears of Mr. A. E. Cook the absence excuses and alibis fall. Checking on boys' attendance is no easy matter, but Mr. A. E. Cook keeps accurate records on the boys—regular and irregular, as well as teaching classes in bookkeeping.

Sympathetic Counsel Develops Leaders

By her understanding and sympathetic leadership, Miss Lucy Helen Kimball is helping Lakewood High School girls to solve their problems. Through her work as faculty adviser to Student Council and Activities Council, she is guiding the students of Lakewood High toward useful citizenship in our democratic world. As a member of the board of the Parent-Teacher Association, the Y. W. C. A., and the Friendship Club, Miss Kimball has a definite influence on Lakewood High School students.

Student Council Trains In Democratic Procedures

Campaign slogans, such as "One Good Term Deserves Another," electioneering speeches, clever posters, collections of floaters begging votes for Price or votes for Lynsky, breathless "thank you's" over the P. A. by successful candidates—to many students such campaign activity is all there is to Student Council. But the one hundred members who meet each Wednesday morning in 209 find in Lakewood's Student Council an opportunity to put into actual practice in the everyday life of our school the democratic procedures on which our way of life is based—discussion and an abiding by the will of the majority.

One of the important projects of this year's council has been compiling the Honor Roll Book under the able direction of Nancy Furst. We now have the names of more than 800 alumni in the service. Another project was the "Stampaign" headed by Jim Dittes and Betty Armstrong. Through this intensive tax stamp campaign more than $500 was realized, making a total of $850 for the first semester's collection. This money is being put into war bonds and stamps until the time when it will be possible to build our recreation cabin.

Discussion Clarifies Issues

*"Now does he feel
His secret murders sticking on his hands;
... Now does he feel his little cloak
Hang loose about him, like a giant's robe
Upon a dwarfish thief."*

"Macbeth"

When questioned as to why he quoted Matthew Arnold and Shakespeare to men going into battle in Sicily, John Mason Brown answered that he saw nothing strange or affected in this. "The threatened beauties, the imperiled values, the free minds which they symbolize supply this war with one of its most potent excuses." For students as well as for men going into battle, a knowledge of the writings of great men of the past will help to clarify the issues of today. Literature classes provide opportunity for analysis of the ideas of others, while composition classes train the student in accurate expression of his own ideas.

Libraries Hold Our Heritage of Freedom

Libraries offer to the student of today an access to many opportunities: learning the truths discovered by past generations, enjoying the priceless literary heritage of America, understanding the progress of democracy through the ages. Dictatorships destroy and suppress such opportunities; democracies create and encourage them. In Europe the paths of dictators are marked by the ruthless destruction of priceless books and records, for these men realize that the printed word can carry hope to a conquered people and that the democratic way of life depends on an informed populace.

Richard De Bury's words that a follower of wisdom must of necessity make himself a lover of books are as true today as they were in 1344. The knowledge which we must have to build our own nation and rebuild the world wisely so that we may live together amicably in peace and freedom must be gleaned from the experiences of past generations.

Students of Experimental Sciences Keep

Chemistry

A combined knowledge of plant biology and chemistry enabled George Washington Carver to create a new field for Southern planters. The hundreds of materials which he developed by experiments with peanuts and other plants are making life more comfortable and economically secure for many. By applying these same principles, Lakewood students are learning to develop their creative abilities through laboratory experiments and analysis. Work with plastics and esters is of interest to all, while an advanced course in qualitative analysis offers further opportunity in the practice of chemistry.

Pace With Interesting Developments

Biology

Biology, the science of life, helps us to understand our place in nature and teaches us how to live harmoniously with nature and our fellowmen. While attempting to interpret nature's laws, students learn to make a scientific approach to the problems of life. From the basic study of one-celled animals the pupil can advance to the intricate study of the human body. This course, physiology, is offered chiefly for pre-medical students and nurses. Horticulture offers further study for those interested in plant biology. Since biology and chemistry are linked inseparably with each other and with life, students who have a knowledge of these fields are more fully equipped to solve the problems which confront them.

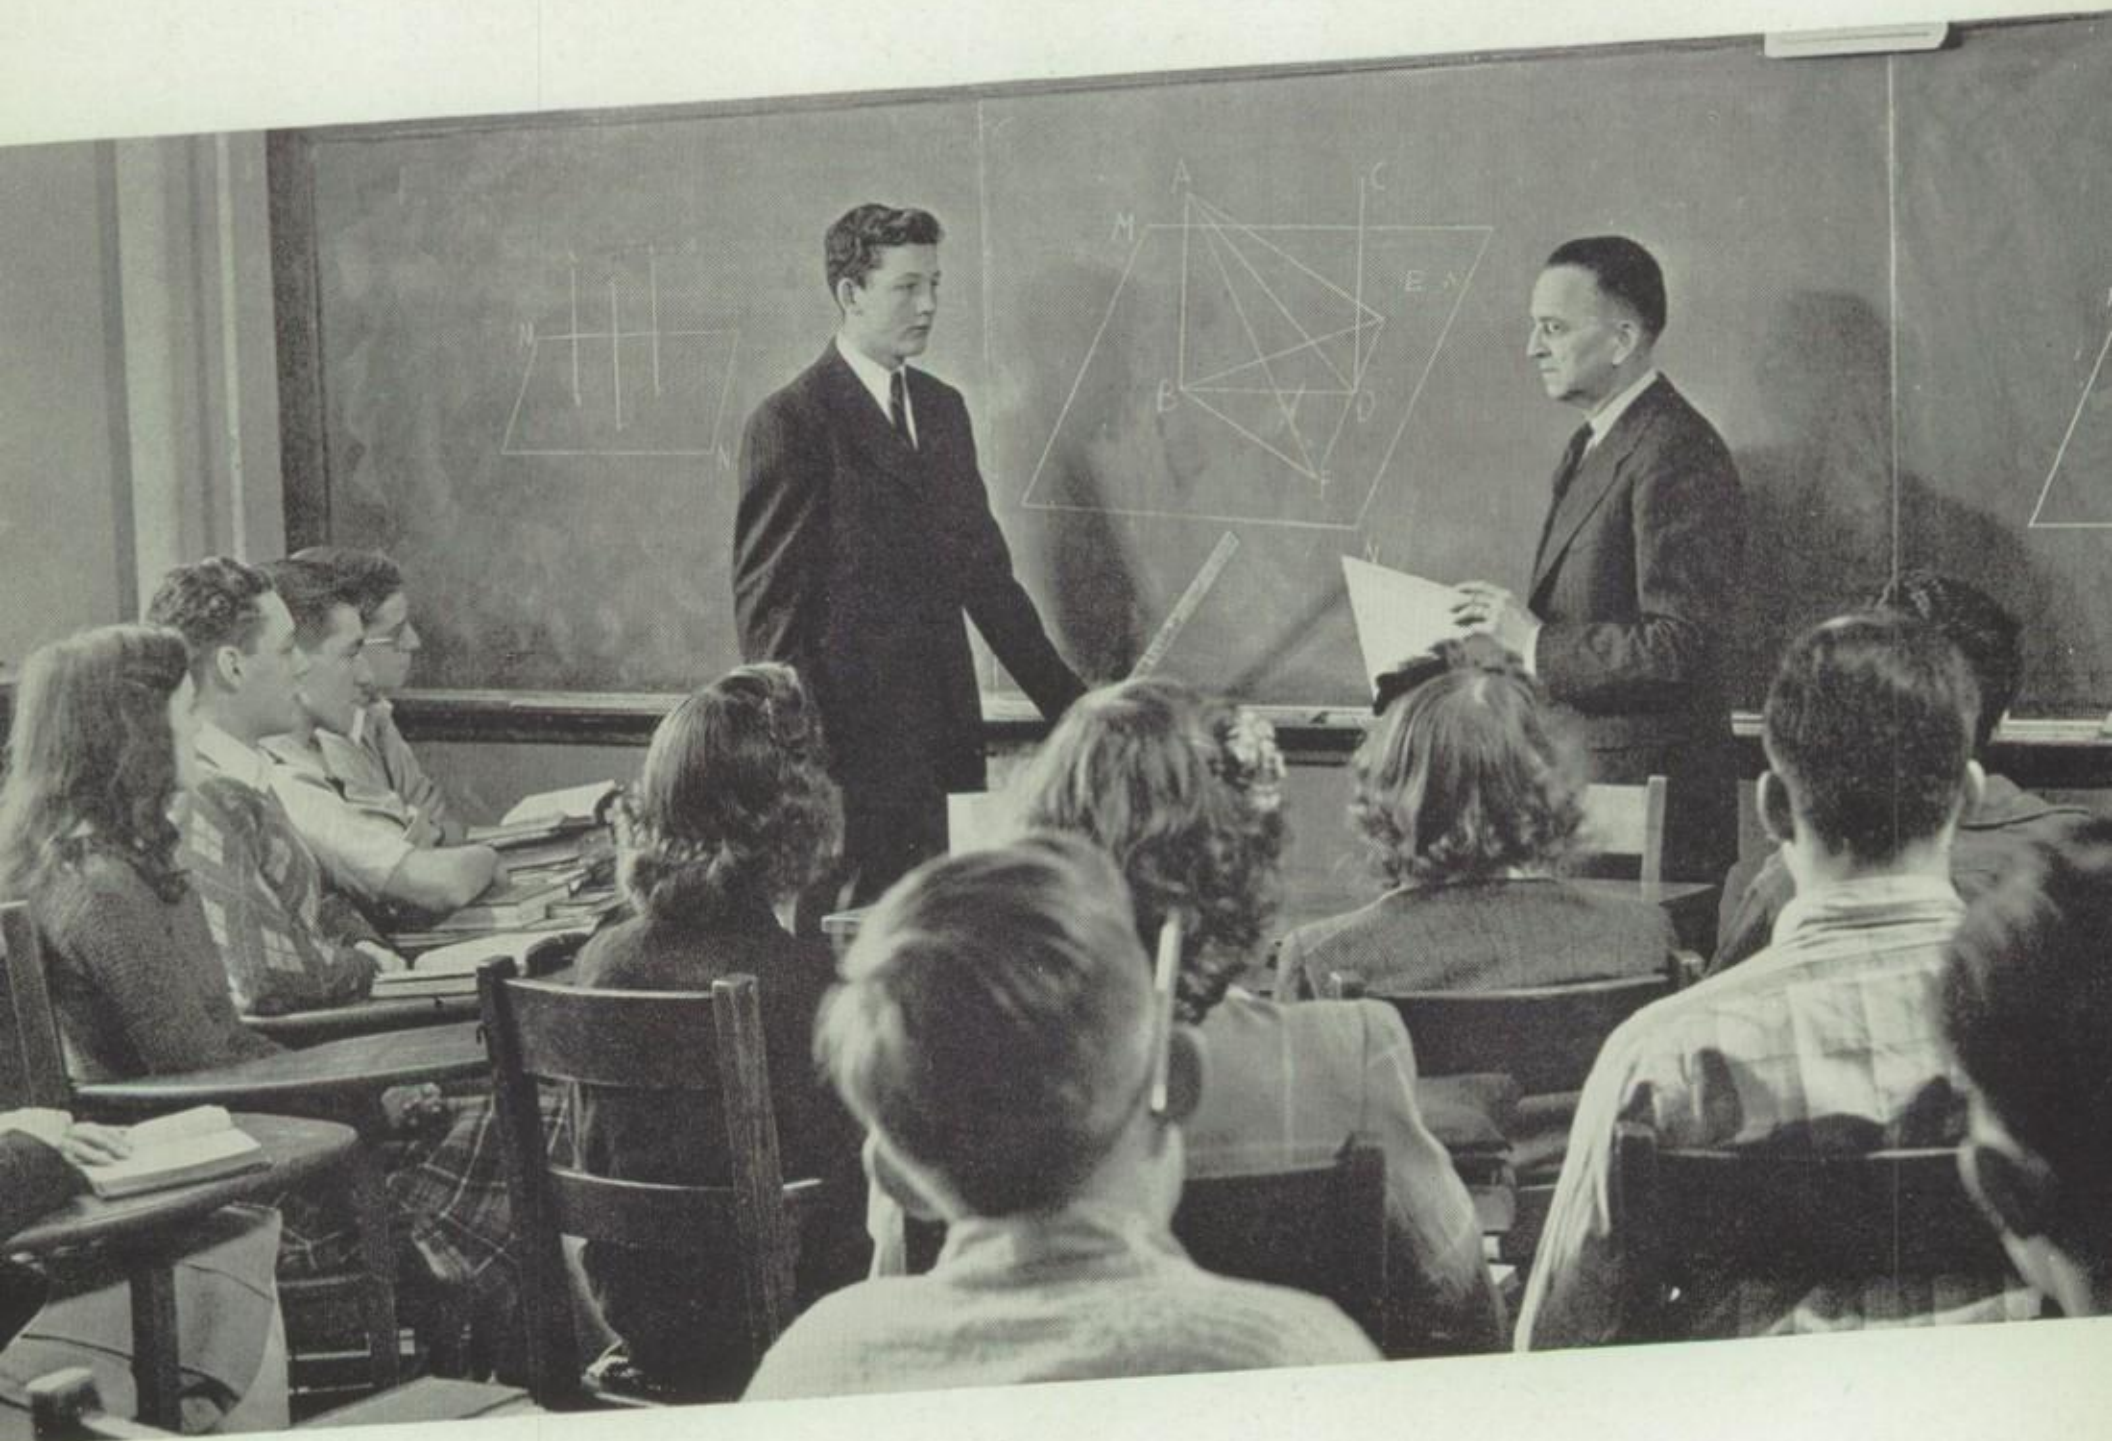

Physics and Mathematics Department

Through experimenting in the laboratory, the students prove theory to be fact.

Provide Training in Logical Thinking

Arriving at a sensible conclusion by logical, precise thinking is a fundamental principle of mathematics—and a fundamental principle of living. Further training in accurate thinking is offered to the student of physics who learns to make applications of natural laws to everyday situations. Whether we are solving an equation, calculating the velocity of a traveling bomb, or working out the problem of living together in the world, a knowledge of mathematics and physics will better enable us to reach sensible conclusions by logical, objective thinking.

Solid geometry is typical of mathematical courses that reveal the wonders of the past and is the cornerstone for building the world of tomorrow.

Respecting and Understanding the Cultures of Respect for the culture and achievement of other peoples, without which the world cannot remain at peace, is one result of the study of history. Strife, progress, and decadence—all are woven together into definite patterns, the cultures of the nations. We see contributions to civilization in the form of inventions, artistic creations, and the documents of freedom such as the Magna Carta. In the light of this knowledge we may come, even in time of war, to hold in esteem every country, seeking to destroy only the forces of evil, so that respect and friendship may bring lasting peace.

Other Peoples Creates International Viewpoint

Familiarity with foreign languages is also an important factor in creating friendship among nations. Not only does language study provide skill in the use of another tongue for communication, but it also brings a knowledge of the cultural backgrounds of other peoples. A language develops and changes with the people who use it and reflects their history and their culture. As the study of all the languages of the world becomes more widespread, and as people learn to think in other languages and consequently to understand better the people who use them, many of the problems of living together in the post-war world will disappear.

Creative Activity in the Classroom Completes

Through the ages working in color and form has satisfied one of man's fundamental urges for self-expression. Such creative activity is provided in special classes in handcrafts, interior decorating, commercial art, as well as in the classes in basic techniques. Art history gives an appreciation of the works of the great masters and an understanding of the deep religious and national influences which motivated them.

Culture

Reflected in the folk and classical music of a people are the events that have shaped their history and the emotional reactions characteristic of their race. Understanding this music is one way by which we may come to that complete understanding of other nations without which world cooperation is impossible.

However, this world understanding is only an indirect result of the study of music, for most of the people enrolled in the vocal, instrumental, and academic classes are there because they love music for itself. Whether learning music fundamentals in the harmony and music appreciation classes, marching in the band, playing "Holiday for Strings" in the orchestra, or acting as hosts to the Lake Erie League Music Festival, the pupils enrolled in this department find enjoyment in music.

Students learn the elements of music, the universal language.

Appreciation of form adds to enjoyment of music. Members of Lakewood's newly formed octet are Langner, Eggleston, Hoberecht, Stewart, Smith, Radcliffe, Clinton, McGinn, Breitmeyer, accompanist.

Adequate Knowledge of Basic Vocational

Practical experience in the foundry leads to positions in industry.

Skills Assures Us of Economic Security

Lakewood students with a working knowledge of the basic technical and commercial skills can adapt themselves readily to varied situations both in military and civilian life. Instead of using book knowledge alone, students learn by doing: repairing cars, making blueprints, and reassembling motors in the technical course; typing, taking dictation, and keeping accurate records in the commercial course. These students serve the school by printing and typing various materials used in the school routine. All these practical skills are preparing the individual for future service to his country and to himself.

Increased demand of wartime industry for office workers fills typing classes to capacity.

Home Economics Trains Homemakers

With the realization that the home is the center of our whole democratic way of life, the Home Economics Department conducts a program designed to educate future homemakers. By visiting kindergartens, buying, furnishing and managing a model home, the 12A Home Management classes learn to handle the problems which will confront them. In the foods classes, where excellent food is not only prepared and served but also analyzed for its nutritional value, students are learning to safeguard the health of the nation. Teaching girls to remodel old clothes and to construct becoming new ones is the work of the clothing classes. During the present emergency each student is required to finish an item for the Red Cross before she may start her own work. Training for happy useful lives is offered in this department.

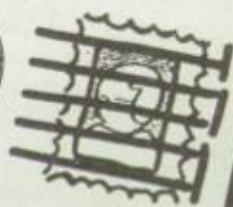

Cafeteria Serves Nutritious Meals Despite Food Rationing

"The trays aren't large enough to hold my food," complain Lakewood students this year. For although the average pupil's appetite has increased, the trays unfortunately have remained the same. "Due to the fact that more students hold after-school jobs, and that working mothers are too busy to pack lunches or prepare after-school snacks, the cafeteria has served increasing amounts despite decreased enrollment," observes Miss Betts, cafeteria supervisor. With eighteen full time workers and ninety student helpers, lunch hours are efficiently operated. Favorites such as city chicken and breaded veal steaks have disappeared from the menu, which now features more egg and soya products. Evening dinners have been eliminated to save all points for lunch-line appetites.

Students feel no "hidden hunger" after meals in the school cafeteria.

Competitive Sports Elaborate Physical Fitness Program

Military Emphasis on Physical Fitness Gives

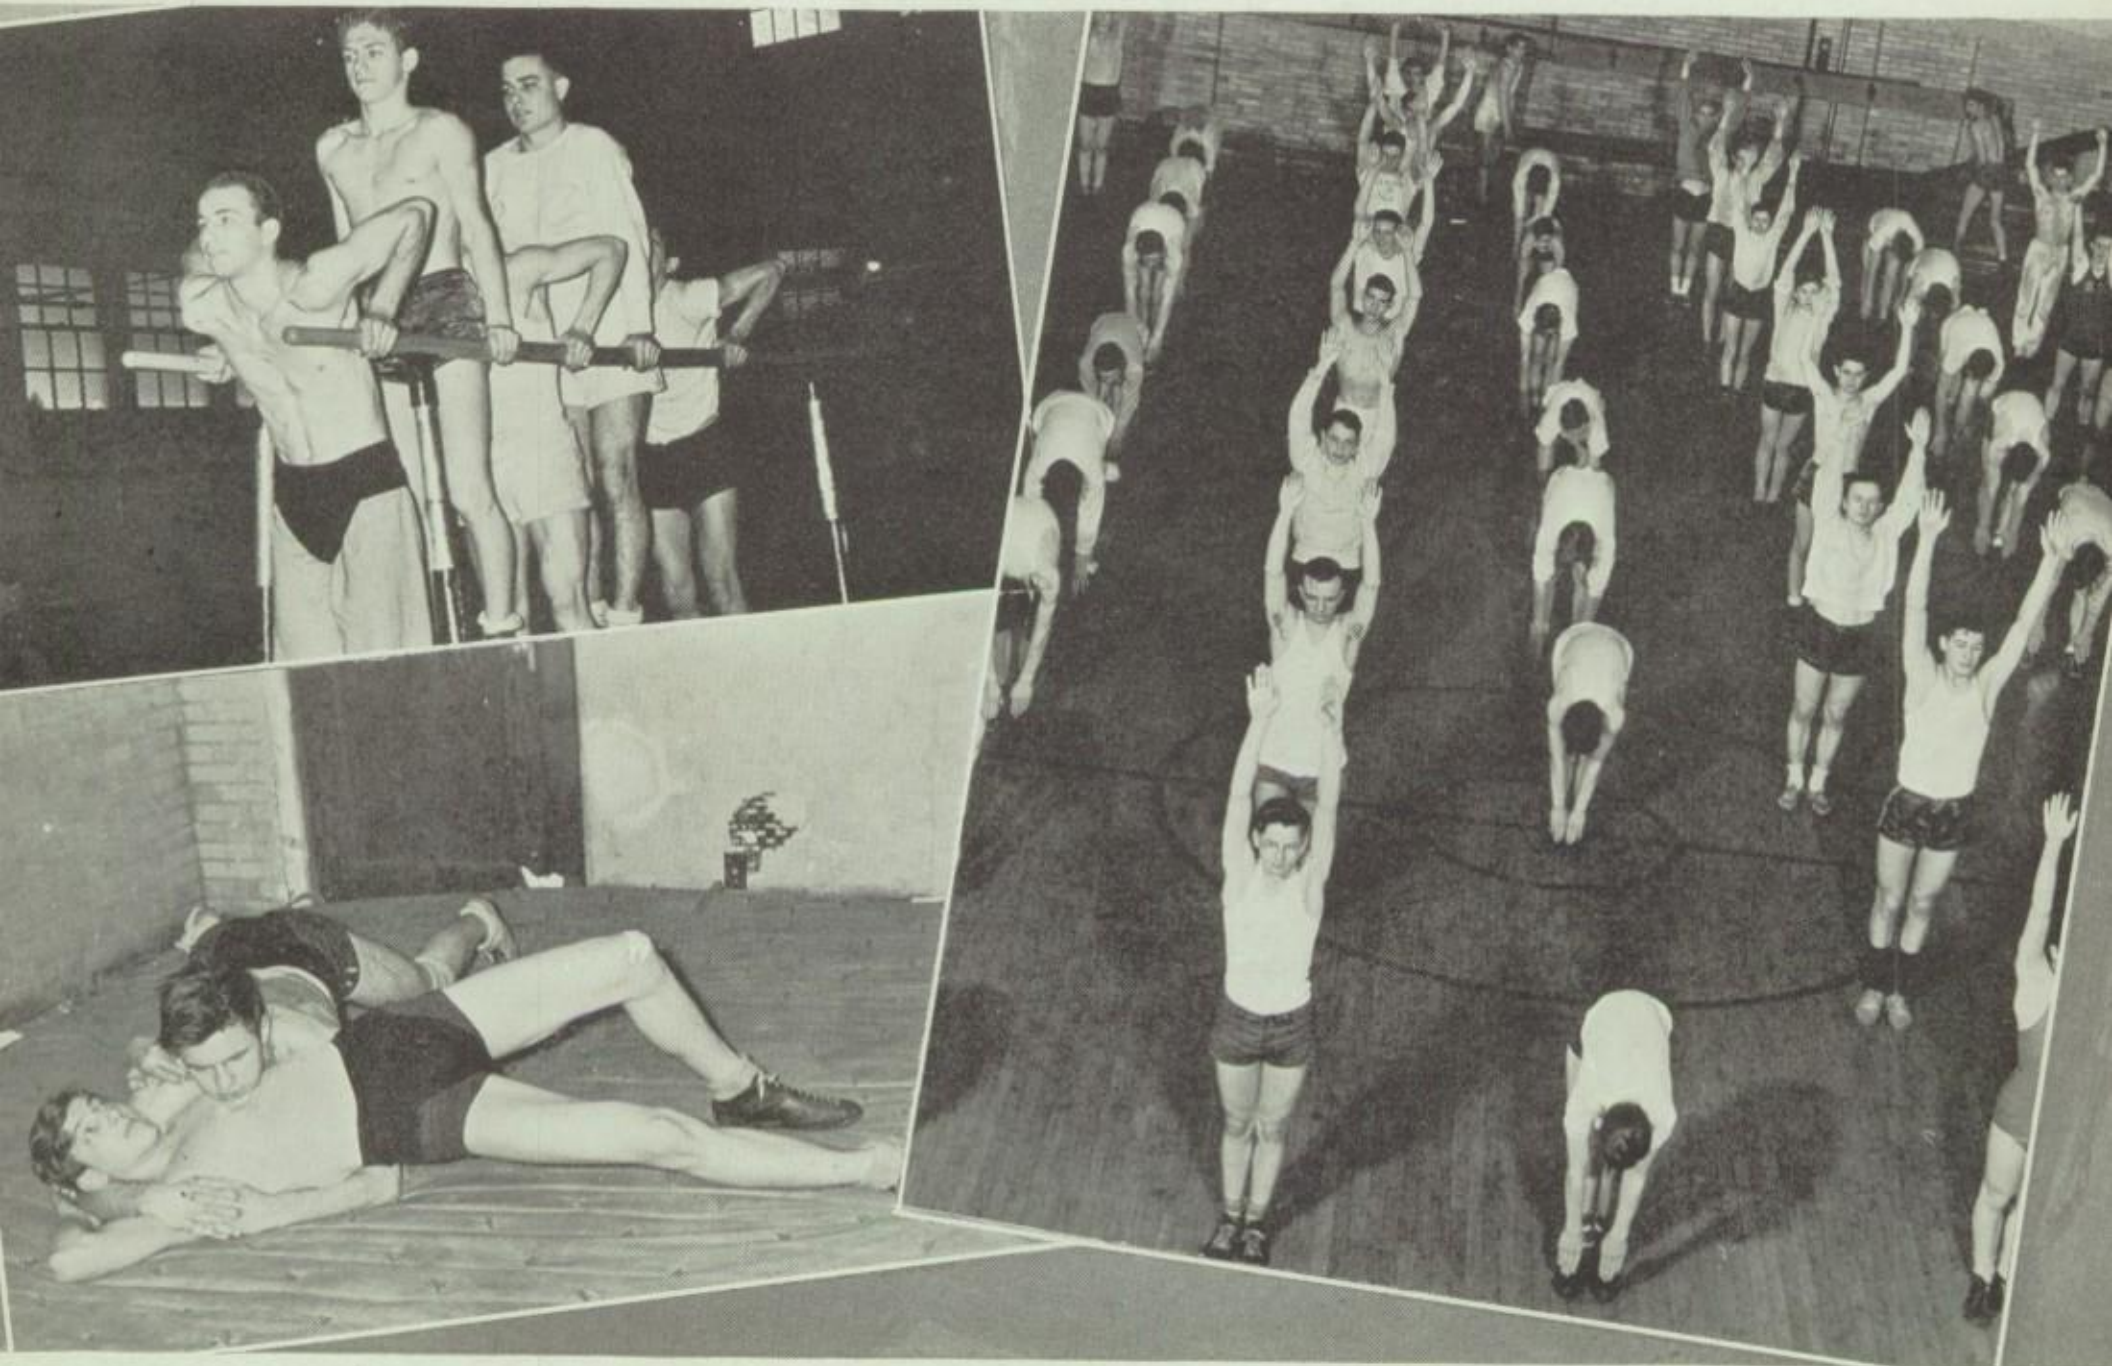

In the school gym today—on the drill field tomorrow.

It's a long way up
Up and over

With the full cooperation of the faculty and board of education the accelerated physical fitness program at Lakewood High School is in full swing with increased periods of calisthenics, timed running, and regulated games. All students are required to take five hours of physical education a week and, if possible, one grading period of swimming a semester. Only those students whose examination by the instructors or the school doctor excuses them from physical exercise are allowed to eliminate physical education from their curriculum. "This program should have been started long ago," said Coach Corneal. "We hope to continue this program after the war is over," he added. Since the importance of healthy, fit young men is especially accentuated in war times like these, the daily physical education period is a necessary part of the Lakewood High School curriculum.

Impetus to Lakewood High School Program

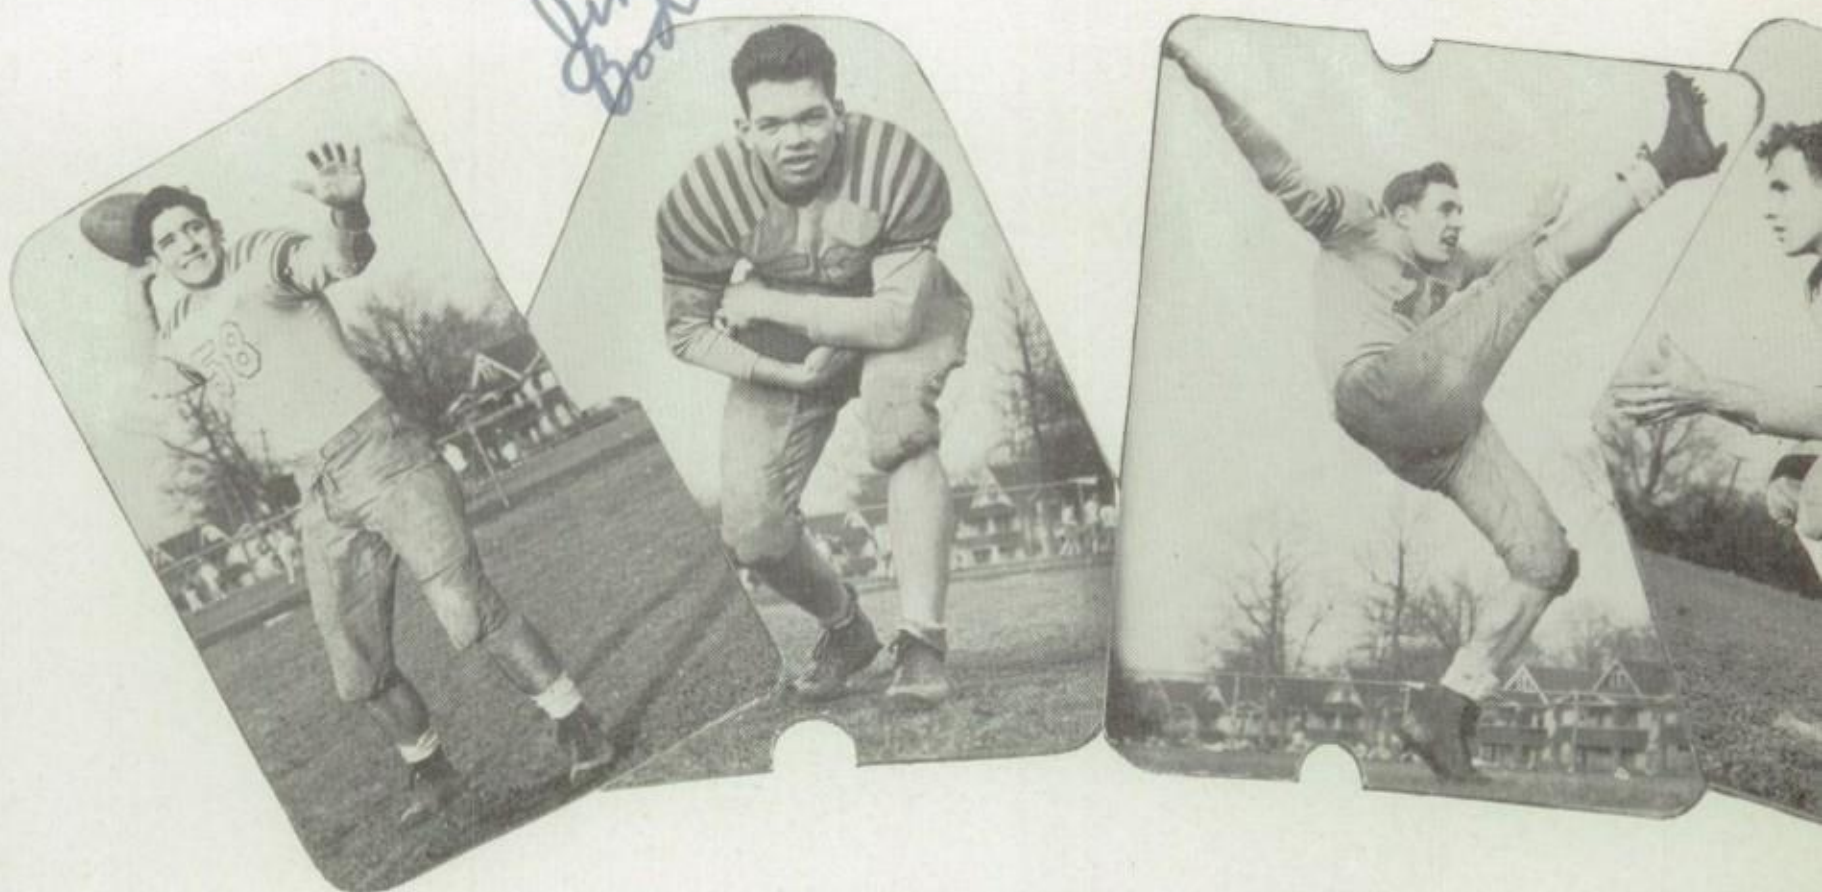

The parallel bars develop strong arm muscles
Ugh!

Hep, hu, hee, four

What does an average Lakewood High School boy do during a typical physical education period under the accelerated program? First he goes to his locker in the locker room and changes from street clothes into tennis shoes, shorts, and shirt. It is surprising how much clothing can be packed into a locker approximately a foot square. Out in the gym his attendance is checked; then according to the instructor's directions he may run relays or do calisthenics for fifteen minutes. Sometimes he works with dumbbells or uses the many pieces of gymnasium apparatus, or perhaps he plays competitive games to develop his agility and ability to think rapidly. Next he runs ten to twenty laps on the indoor track; then into the shower for a refreshing bath. Although this period requires only forty-five minutes out of a day, many students are more healthy and feel better because of it.

Rangers Lose L. E. L. Title By One Point

Meeting a powerful Lorain team on a snow covered, muddy field, Lakewood lost its only game of the season in a thrilling 7-6 defeat. It was Lorain's big fullback, Joe Bartos, who snapped our 15-game LEL streak by scoring a touchdown and kicking the extra point. Captain Jim Lynsky scored our only touchdown.

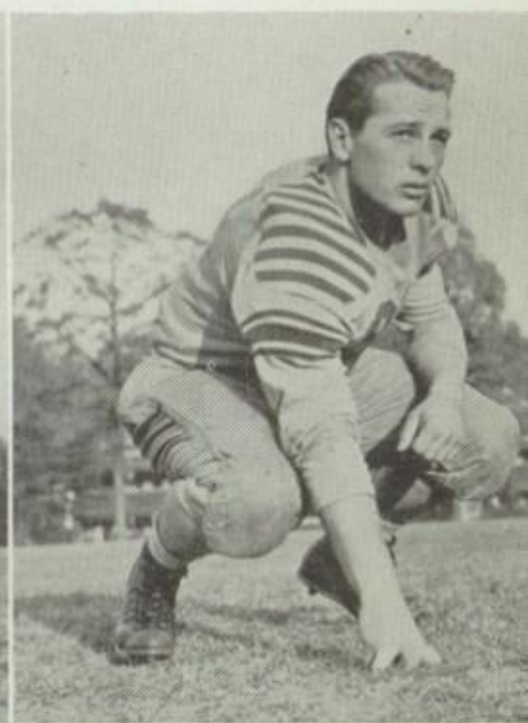

Previously the Rangers had romped through five straight wins, in which no opponent scored more than one touchdown. East Tech and Cleveland Heights were the first two victims, the latter suffering a 14-6 defeat, and the former falling under an 18-6 onslaught. Verdova and Lynsky figured prominently in the scoring in these two games. Then the Rangers in quick succession ripped through Elyria, 24-6; Shaw, 27-0; and West, 19-0. In the West game every uninjured man on the squad saw action.

After the Lorain defeat, the Nessmen met a scrappy Shaker squad, which bowed only 20-13. Scoring 19 points, Lynsky led the Rangers to a 25-6 rout of Alliance the following week. In the traditional Thanksgiving Day game the Rangers finished the season in a 6-6 deadlock with a battling Tech team.

Sum Total!

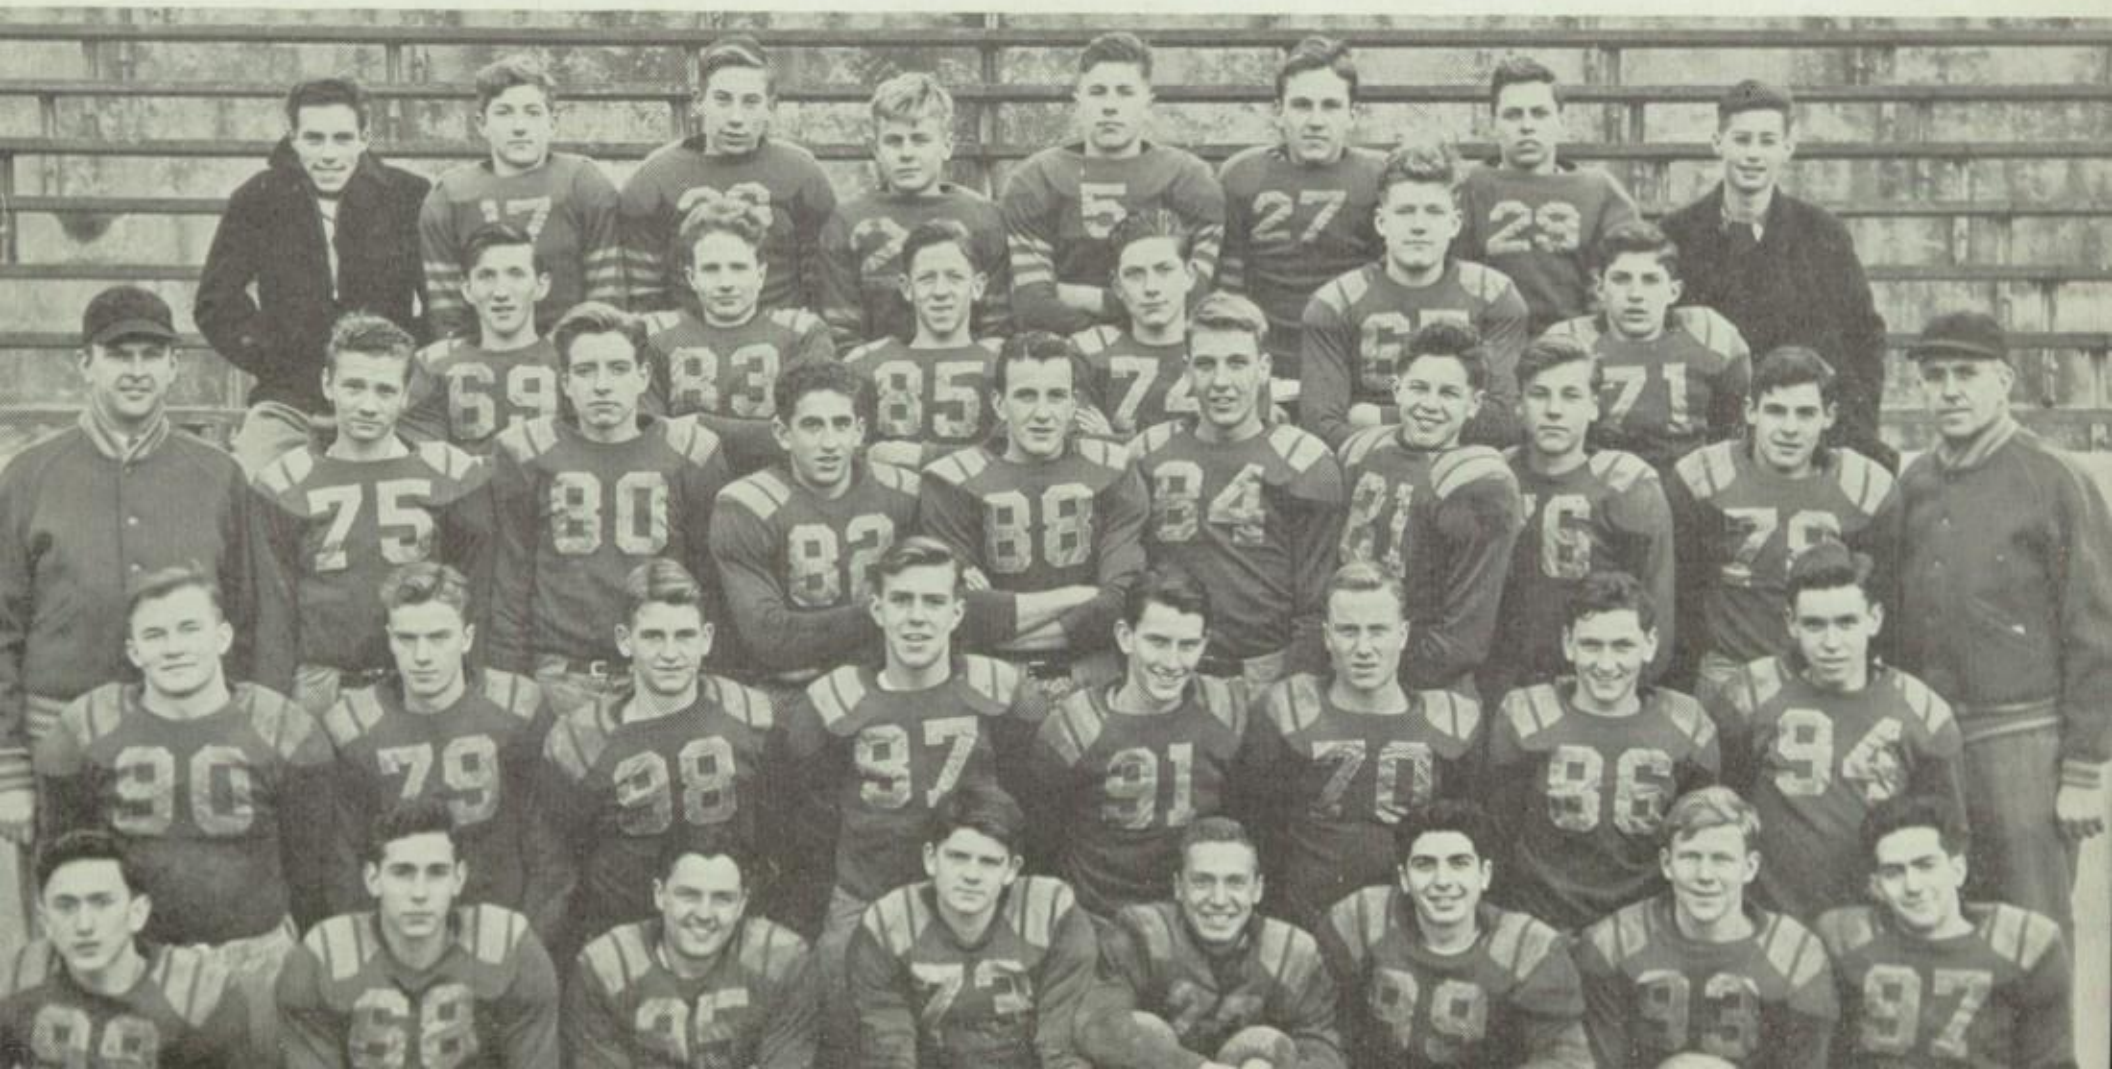

The record: The Rangers made 159 points to their opponents' 50. Lynsky's record of 55 points tops those of Gruss and Henry, last year's stars; seven juniors who saw much action, Melzer, Verdova, and Burson in the backfield, Wieland at center, Wible and Polley at guard, and Kiser at end, were awarded letters. With these boys back the team should have a highly successful season next year.

Junior Varsity Runs Undeclared Streak to 17

Adding seven games to last year's record of ten undefeated games, the Junior Varsity chalked up six wins and one tie to finish one of its most successful seasons in recent years. Under the able direction of its new coach, Cletis Johnson, the Junior aggregation scored 181 points to their opponents' 35. Injuries to several varsity members gave such outstanding players as McConville, Staas, Trask, and Dunneback the opportunity to play with the Varsity at the end of the J. V. season. These boys will greatly strengthen next year's team.

Defeat of Heights Climaxes Ranger Season

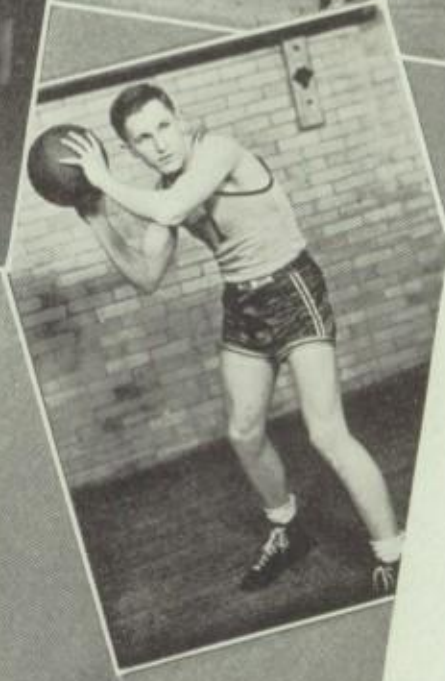

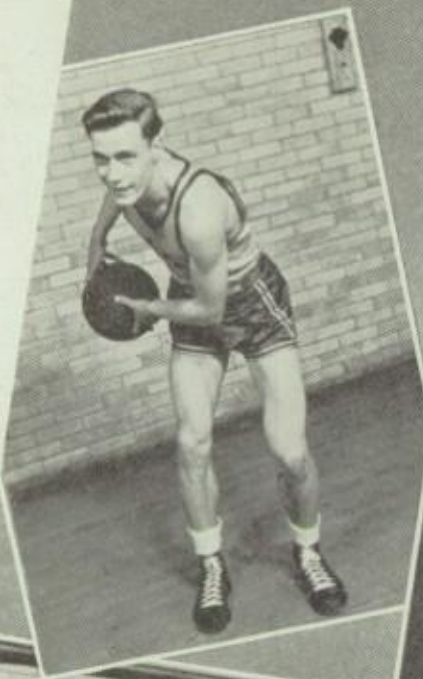

After two wins and four losses, Coach Ross used an all-junior line-up for the remainder of the season, experimenting with various starting combinations of these juniors for the purpose of finding a good combination for next season. The inexperience of the boys undoubtedly accounts for their mediocre showing. Most of the games were see-saw affairs, the lead passing back and forth between the Rangers and their opponents, who usually wound up with the high score at the finish. The high point of the season was the defeat of the champion Heights team by a score of 27-26. The experience that the boys gained this year will be valuable, and with the entire team back next year the chances are good that we will make a satisfactory showing in the L. E. L. competition.

How true was the "Times" headline, "Junior Cagers Long in Inches Short in Points." Tall and rangy, the J. V.'s won but five games this season. Cross Country

Why has the Lakewood High track team won fourteen Lake Erie League championships in the past seventeen years? The answer is Coach George Corneal plus the Lakewood spirit to win. Coach Corneal has been with Lakewood twenty-seven years and has endeared himself to many boys by his never-failing wit and helpful suggestions. Since eighteen lettermen were graduated last June, only a few have remained as a nucleus for this year's team. Among them are Leatherbury, Wallace, Reeb, Fox, Anders, and Verdova.

Endurance plus is the first requirement of the cross country team. Under the able direction of Coach Andy Watters the team prepared for the November district meet at the Ridgewood Golf Course. There the harriers were nosed out of first place, which they have held for three years, by a powerful Marshall team. In the state meet at Mansfield, Bob Anders, Lakewood star, finished fifth. Pacing the team this year were such fine runners as Anders, Dunn, and Fisher.

Swimming Team Captures L. E. L. Championship

The record of a great team's highly successful season follows, along with that of the newly organized and very promising Junior Varsity swim squad. After becoming City Champions and Lake Erie League Champions, the varsity traveled to Columbus to gain a second place in the state meet, led by the crack 150-yard medley and 200-yard freestyle teams.

Lettermen Forecast Good Baseball Season

Although a minor sport at Lakewood, baseball has its following, and the call for first practice always brings a satisfactory response. Returning to this year's team are six lettermen, Lynsky, catcher; Gerney, first baseman; Burson, shortstop; Tanis, third baseman; Wasco, outfielder; and Bristow, pitcher. "The success of the team this year will depend a great deal on the pitchers," said Coach Ness. This places a lot of responsibility on the shoulders of "Big Bill" Bristow, who distinguished himself by his fine pitching last spring. Last year the team won ten games and lost four to win the West Side championship but lost the City championship to John Adams. Many Lakewood High students have been playing sandlot baseball and hard-ball for years, so there is generally much interest shown in the success or failure of the team. But win or lose, the boys get enjoyment and experience enough to repay them well for the hours of practice.

Wrestling

Recognized by Army and Navy physical instructors because it develops stamina and muscular strength, wrestling has been a part of Lakewood's competitive program for many years. Daily workouts in the boys' locker room prepared the Lakewood Matmen for meets during December, January, and February with Rhodes, Marshall, Shaker, West High, West Tech and for the city wide meets held in February. The winners of the city meets throughout Ohio clash to determine the state champions. Coming back next year with two seasons of experience behind them will be Bender, Foerste, Rayman, and Fritsche.

Fencing

Interest is the key word that started and has been responsible for the growth of Fencing Club. No former knowledge is necessary and no equipment must be purchased by the individual, as the club has its own masks, protectors, and foils. Much time is spent on the primary work of learning the techniques of attacks and parries. When enough skill is attained, a face off is held to determine the best fencer of the club. The more advanced members often meet pupils from other schools for individual bouts. Both boys and girls find many hours of enjoyment in this sport, where skill not brawn is most important.

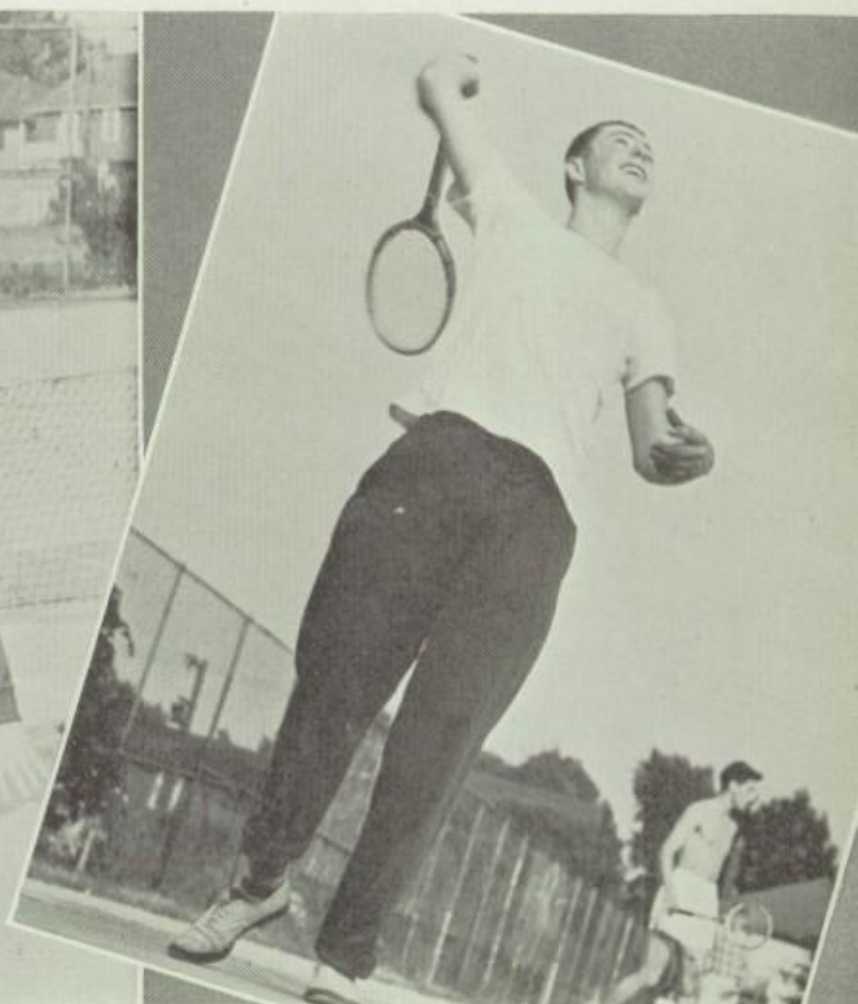

Tennis Team

L.E.L. Champions

With only three lettermen back, the tennis team captured its 14th Lake Erie League title in 18 years. Sparked by their captain, Jack Tanis, the Ranger racqueteers nudged Lorain 3-2 for the first win of the season. The other singles players, Bill Wollet and Harvey Corlett, took their matches, but both doubles teams, composed of Jack Bowers, and Tom Losh, Clyde Shaver, and Bob Diffenbacker, lost to superior Lorain netters. The team followed through by completely smashing a weak Elyria team 5-0. The reorganized doubles teams, made up of Bowers and Tom Clarke, Losh and Shaver, combined with singles players Tanis, Wollet, and Corlett to win 60 of the 75 games without losing even one set. The Ranger netmen, continuing their winning streak, dethroned Shaker, last year's title holder, and won the L. E. L. crown for their new coach, Alexander Farquhar. Although only one letterman, Tom Losh, will return next year, Coach Farquhar hopes to repeat this year's triumph.

“L” Club

A Lakewood “L”! The ultimate goal of every boy who enters Lakewood High School! The “L” on the yellow sweater of that boy walking down the hall stands for something. It means not only that the boy has represented Lakewood on the playing field, but also that he is in good physical condition, has worked hard, plays the game cleanly and fairly, works well with others, and has kept up his grades. Above all he has developed character. As a result, he is one of the few who wear the coveted “L” and belong to the “L” Club, an honorary organization for athletes. Founded many years ago, the “L” Club includes the boys who are members of major athletic teams and those who are members of a championship minor team.

Realizing that all boys cannot be outstanding athletes, the coaches have made provisions to award letters to those boys who have shown their school spirit and determination by coming out for three years for a sport, even though they were not star players. In their weekly Friday morning meetings these boys discuss ways and means of promoting school enthusiasm for athletic events.

Hospital Cooperates in Health Education Program

Physical fitness is not a new phrase or a new idea at Lakewood High School. The school health department had conducted physical examinations and developed a program for the early correction of defects that made Lakewoodites health-conscious long before wartime demands brought the whole problem of physical fitness before the American public. Mrs. Garrett, our school nurse, is on duty all day to care for students who are injured or become ill at school and to consult with parents on problems relating to health.

Calisthenics, Recreational Games, Enlarge

A well-rounded program meeting the interests and needs of our girls is rapidly being developed at L.H.S. On warm fall days the classes meet outside, where, after a pleasant jaunt around the track, the girls improve their sun tans and their agility on the speed ball courts. Later cold weather drives classes inside, but here calisthenics are not their only activity. Volley ball tournaments with regular teams spur their interests. Relays and basketball techniques add variety to the mid-winter classes. The springtime brings baseball games and also the annual mass physical education demonstration in our own stadium. For some girls the opportunity is open to take swimming instead of gym. Here the development of strokes, speed, and endurance are stressed. Occasionally, as the girls acquire sufficient skill, class meets are held with races and relay teams.

Team spirit fosters cooperation and more interest.

Competitive sport results in sense of fair play.

Recreational games provide mental relaxation as well as physical exercise.

Extra-Curricular Sports Give Variety to P. E.

Sportwise L.H.S. girls demand and maintain a full extra-curricular sports program. With the seasons they participate in tennis, volley ball, basketball, and baseball. These major sports are usually organized into tournaments which spur teams to friendly rivalry. Most games are played after school, although sometimes eager participants have arrived early Saturday morning to complete a round. Two other sports have come to the front in recent years. These are archery and bowling. The archery group meets one day a week in the gym to practice their chosen art. Bowling enthusiasts have formed a league and now bowl regularly at a nearby alley. A bowling tournament attracting much attention was that which featured high individual scores. Minor sports such as ping-pong and badminton are also encouraged, and facilities are provided for those who wish to participate.

Accuracy and split-second timing are necessary in close competition.

Student leaders direct extra-curricular sport.

Calisthenics teach coordination of mind and body.

Perfection, endurance, and versatility are the qualities needed by swimmers desiring to enter Tank. The girls who are already members act as judges on the entrance tests. Once this step has been passed the would-be member must undergo a rigid initiation, which features novelty races and stunts topped off with a delicious raw oyster or two. Having attained membership, the girls work for grace and coordination in the water and spend a great deal of time swimming to music, stressing rhythm and unit work. Many hours of practice are required to form perfect water-wheels, which are so effective in ballets. Swimming laps develops both speed and endurance, and races furnish endless entertainment. War time drills include such things as life saving and practicing the correct way to abandon ship without getting one's possessions wet. The climax, as far as extra fun goes, are the splash parties. These are held, not only in our school, but also in collaboration with other schools throughout the city.

for Fun and Training in Leadership

Leaders' Club is for the athletic girl who is also interested in handling groups and in knowing how to be a good organizer. As a prerequisite for membership a girl must take the Cadet Training Course, which is offered by instructors in physical education and lasts for one semester. Here she learns the basic principles of organizing and directing a group. Rules for games are reviewed and interpreted. Techniques for the sports also are developed, for the Leaders often assist in instruction. After passing the examination at the end of the course a cadet becomes a full fledged Leader. Now she may be assigned as a class leader, where she will be responsible for assisting in taking the attendance and may be called on at any time to assist the teacher or take over the class. Activity meetings are held once a month, at which time Leaders enjoy their favorite sports, parties, and outings. Planning services of various kinds, party booths, and extra activities is done at the regular business meetings.

Boot and Bridle

Enthusiastic members of Boot and Bridle Club choose the valley for their favorite sport, horse-back riding. Weather permitting, they ride at least one afternoon a week, making Parkers' their starting post. All-day rides are featured when time permits during the year. The girls start out early in the morning, eat their breakfast and lunch on the trail, and really make a day of it. Regular indoor meetings are spent in reports and discussions on horses and riding.

Girls' Insignia

At long last a workable plan for the awarding of a girls' emblem has been established. Points are given for participation in the after school program, which includes tournaments in all the major sports in season. Winners, umpires, and managers receive special credit. Last spring nine girls received the first emblems, the school shield in purple and gold felt, for having earned 250 points. Although no one has won the coveted honor, every girl is working towards the L which is awarded to outstanding participants for earning 1200 points.

Cheerleaders

Lakewood's girl cheerleaders have just completed their first and very successful season. The girls as well as the boys were chosen by the students at a demonstration assembly. Since that time they have adopted, devised, and put to motion many cheers. One season's participation brings them a minor letter, and after two seasons they are awarded a major letter. In their costumes of purple and gold they appear at all games and "pep" assemblies, inspiring an enthusiastic, unified support of the teams and a whole-hearted school spirit.

Service is the motto of Lakewood High School's Red Cross organization. When this organization meets under Miss Campbell's capable supervision, room 109 becomes a bedlam as members fashion knitted lap-robies, warm gloves, and hospital slippers for our armed forces, the refugees in war devastated areas, and convalescents in hospitals. Last year through the efforts of the Red Cross every homeroom filled ditty bags with cigarettes, shoe strings and polish, cards, and combs for soldiers and sailors embarking for overseas. The Red Cross has been responsible for making the war stamp corsages which have been so popular with everyone.

Not confining its activities just to aiding the war effort, the Red Cross has turned its attention to community problems by making little bonnets, dresses, and woolen mittens for children from two to six years of age in Children's Aid centers. Red Cross members also made Easter baskets for these same children.

It's well worth the effort.

Lakewood High School's 4th War Loan Drive was carried to a successful conclusion with the sale of $212,000 worth of bonds. To this amount was added the $15,000 which was collected in the weekly war stamp sales. A total of $227,000 was raised to be used for the purpose of buying two ambulance planes. The entire war bond drive was promoted by the Victory Corps under Miss Dawson's and Mr. Cantrell's leadership. Such Victory Corps members as Jim Frackleton, Jack Rupert, Tom McHugh, and Dick Hoffman did an outstanding job of boosting the drive, and Kathleen Kelly, Jim McAllan, Howard Strauch, and Dick Hoffman have been active on the war stamp committee.

Organizing a special paper salvage on Washington's Birthday the Victory Corps collected 200 tons of paper. The $1500 received for the paper was put into bonds for the cabin fund. Members of this organization also picked beans, sent gifts to war prisoners, and collected scrap.

Cinema Staff Meets Problems

Paper shortages, scarcity of copper and other engraving materials, limited civilian allotment of photographic supplies—these are but a few of the serious problems which faced the 1944 Cinema Staff in September. What's more, the little gremlins who have pestered us with these troubles worked their way into the Cinema with the help of Artist Merle Dowd. But the problems were met and the Cinema was published as usual.

Tradition Remains Despite Shortages

In a war year, a school year book is doubly important. Besides presenting a review of events and faces to bring back memories, it tends to thrust into the background many of the worries of war. Then, too, a period of struggle often brings changes, and many customs tend to disappear. The decision of the staff to continue our traditional Cinema gives one a sense of stability, a realization that not everything has changed.

Times Symbolizes Freedom of Speech

Reading the newspaper is a simple act in itself, yet it is symbolical of our way of life. The reader is directly benefiting from one of the great freedoms of democracy—freedom of speech, which includes the right to print the news and the right to read it. Each Friday the students of Lakewood High receive and read the Times, published, not by the Propaganda Ministry, but by Lakewoodites, who print the news and comment on school topics.

Times Builds Alumni Morale

The outstanding wartime project of the Lakewood High Times this year has been mailing copies to alumni in the armed forces. On the constantly changing list are usually about 235 names. Everyone who writes to someone in the service will readily sympathize with the Service Staff in the task of addressing copies to those long military addresses! But knowing the dividends in morale helps to make the job easier. The Times links the serviceman to home, bringing back cherished memories of carefree school days.

Dances Held Off Campus

"Give us out-of-school dances!" This has always been the plea of Lakewood students. At last, precedent has been broken; Lakewood students are now able to hold some of their dances outside of the school building. On Thanksgiving night, three hundred students went to the Masonic Temple to dance to Al Angelotta's twelve-piece WTAM orchestra. With parents of Lakewood students as chaperones, the dance marked another successful phase of the school's ever-widening social program. Because of the students' support of this first venture, a committee of seniors, headed by Dick Kranz, planned another dance for Christmas night at the Masonic Temple. Dancing to the music of Bob Alexander's top band, two hundred Lakewoodites spent a gala evening. The cooperation of students, faculty, and parents made possible this beginning of a tradition of holiday dances for Lakewoodites.

Social Committee Continues Successful Parties

Every successful undertaking requires efficient planning and organizing. Responsible for the success of the Lakewood High School Social Program is the Social Committee, composed of members elected from each homeroom. This large committee is divided into the various smaller committees, such as decoration, refreshment and ticket-selling. Faculty members advise these committees and serve as chaperones at the dances. Among the events planned by the Social Committee are the six all school parties, including the Activities Banquet, and the basketball dances. The inauguration of the Social Program in the fall of 1941 with the first Campus Frolic has provided a well rounded schedule of activities to be participated in and enjoyed by every member of the student body.

Variety Adds To Fun

Enlarging the social program, Hi-Y and Friendship sponsored the Snowball Dance at the Masonic Temple. The annual singing contest between Hi-Y chapters was held at this dance. A new program for basketball dances was inaugurated at the beginning of the second semester. Under the direction of the executive council tickets were sold for a minimum amount. These dances were continued to the end of the basketball season. At the Sadie Hawkins Dance Lakewoodites, dressed as Daisy Mae and Li'l Abner, followed the calls for intricate square dance steps in the girls' gym. Mal Fitch supplied the music for the city slickers in the boys' gym. The traditional senior parties, the 12B-12A Prom and the 12A Prom, completed the year's activities.

All-School Parties Become Traditional

The social life for this year started with the Campus Frolic which, because of the shortage of help, was held in the gym instead of out of doors. Buying war stamps from War Widows, learning rhumbas taught by Spanish Club experts, laughing at old Cinema pictures—these are the impressions left by the first party of the year. Clint Noble's band was enjoyed by both jitterbug angels and waltzing clowns at the Hallowe'en costume dance. Honoring our football team, Lakewoodites turned out to see the royal pair, Marge McDonald and Bill Humphrey, crowned by Miss Kimball and Mr. Meeks at the Victory Ball. Dancing to the music of Buddy Murray's orchestra, the mid-year graduates enjoyed the last social event of their high school career, the 12A Prom.

Barnstormers and Seniors Entertain i

Oh-h—pardon me!

Is there a doctor in the house? • Stage staff makes last minute preparations • Quick! The elderberry wine! • “Ah heah da spirts callin’ . . .”

Since 1923 Barnstormers Club and its semi-annual productions have become a part of Lakewood High School tradition. This year's additions to the long list of characters that have come alive under Mr. White's skillful direction include the delightfully irresponsible Sycamore family in “You Can't Take It With You” and the two dear old ladies who carried out their murderous designs in “Arsenic and Old Lace”. Outstanding dramatic work is recognized by appointment to National Thespian Honor Society, which has had a chapter at Lakewood High School for two years.

... "and inebriates sleeping on the couch!" • We want to be alone • The set goes up • The duchess serves the "blitzes".

The farewell appearance at Lakewood High of those who are interested in dramatics is often made in the senior plays. This year the January class presented the spine-tingling murder-thriller, "The Cat and the Canary". The talent of the cast and Mr. Neneman's deft touch combined to make a "hit" that alternately thrilled and amused the audience. On the job as usual at this play to take care of the stage settings, lighting, and technical effects were the members of the Stage Staff, who succeeded in helping to give the play a realistically weird impression. These "behind the scenes" men work tirelessly, often with little recognition, to make possible the many plays and assemblies for the students.

Music, Plays, Community Service, Sketching

"We would pass our candles on to other Junior members that they in turn may pass them on so that our lights will form a living, glowing chain of friendship—to you we give our candles."

Down through the ages friends have been among humanity's most cherished possessions. Here at Lakewood High, the opportunity of making lasting friendships is given to every girl through Friendship Club. Most impressive of Friendship ceremonies is the annual Recognition Service welcoming new girls into the club. Each member is given a candle, and the flame is passed from one to another just as the flame of friendship has passed from generations of Lakewood High School girls. Each year the program is centered around a definite theme. "Live to Learn and Learn to Live" is the theme for this year's Friendship activities which have included a wide range of general and special meetings.

Friendship Club is the senior high school organization of the Girl Reserves. Its symbol is a triangle within a circle. The circle signifies the unbroken circle of friendship, and the sides of the triangle stand for body, mind, and spirit. Flowers are used symbolically at the Senior Farewell, a service given each semester for departing seniors. A white flower for interest is worn by first year members; a blue flower for loyalty, by second year members; and a gold flower for service, by third year members. The activities of the Friendship Club are directed by the cabinet under the leadership of Miss Merrills, Miss E. Coates, Miss McMillen, and Miss Kimball.

With a membership of three hundred twenty-six, Friendship is the largest club in the school. In addition to attending the main meetings of the entire group, each girl chooses one of the eight interest groups. Girls may also join Ring Group to earn their Girl Reserve rings. One of the most important activities of the interest groups is writing the Tribune, the monthly gossip and news magazine. The traditional Thanksgiving and Christmas baskets for needy families were omitted this year because of rationing problems. The interest groups also plan the program for Pa-Ma-Me, a yearly festival for Friendship girls and their parents, which presents a bird's-eye view of the year's activities.

"To create, maintain, and extend throughout the school and community high standards of Christian character."

The induction ceremony through the above pledge emphasizes the scope of Hi-Y; namely, to better its members through constructive programs and activities and to extend its influence as far as possible. Part of the largest organized religious group of high school boys in the world, the Hi-Y groups work for the improvement of their members by having discussion meetings, speakers on religious subjects, along with entertainment activities such as movies, parties, and sports. The second purpose has been attained in part through the reorganization of the one chapter into six chapters.

Planned to give an increasing number of the boys the privilege an opportunity of Hi-Y membership, the new Hi-Y program enlists the interest of Lakewood High School boys at the beginning of their 10B semester. In each new sophomore class a chapter is formed with its own constitution. Each semester this chapter moves up a step, and at each advance a certain quota of new members is inducted. By the time the group reaches the final semester, the total membership is fifty for the January classes and sixty for the June classes, which are much larger. As the group goes forward, its members participate in religious, social and sports activities, growing all the while in their friendship for one another and in their understanding of Christian ideals.

Realizing the part that youth must play in winning the peace, the Hi-Y chapters have begun now to consider the problems which they will have to face. "Racial Problems" and "The Place of Youth in the Post War World" were subjects of talks given by Mr. Strickland, Boys' Work Secretary of the Cedar Branch of the Y. M. C. A., to the sophomore and junior groups. Moving pictures and speakers on various subjects add interest to the bi-weekly meetings. Social life is not neglected by the chapters. Working in cooperation with the Friendship groups, the very successful Snowball Dance was held in January. In February the Inter-Cleveland Hi-Y dance was held. The individual chapters also sponsor date nights at the "Y" house.

In February with the division of the senior chapter into a 12B and a 12A chapter the Hi-Y reorganization program, begun in the fall semester of 1942, was complete. Opportunities for leadership in activities away from school come to Hi-Y members. John Studer, member of the January graduating class and president of the senior chapter during the fall semester, was elected president of the State Council in November. Twelve boys, representing each of the chapters, were also present at this meeting. Each year for five years the Hi-Y groups have brought a nationally known speaker to address assemblies and to confer with students individually concerning their personal problems. This year Dr. Henry Hitt Crane of Detroit, conducted successful assemblies and conferences.

Senior A Cappella

In the Lakewood High School Junior and Senior A Cappella Choirs are boys and girls who have talent and a sincere love for music. These qualities, combined with Mr. T. R. Evans' inspiring direction, account for the remarkable success and wide reputation of the choral groups. Each choir member feels a personal responsibility and pride in the correct interpretation of a choral number.

Worthwhile Experience

In the Boys' Glee Club students have the opportunity to harmonize to their heart's content while gaining an appreciation of good music. Their enjoyment of this opportunity is apparent in the gusto and enthusiasm which characterizes their singing. Each spring the Boys' and Girls' Glee Clubs join the other choral groups in presenting a concert.

Enjoyable Relaxation

More and more girls are finding singing in the Girls' Glee Clubs a worthwhile and enjoyable means of relaxation to relieve the tension of their busy days. The growing popularity of these groups is indicated by the fact that the membership of the three Girls' Glee Clubs this year is the largest in Lakewood High School history.

Band

In rain or shine the Lakewood High School Band may be found spurring the football team on to greater glory. Behind these stirring performances lie many hours of tedious drill. Evidence of their talent and dependability was the honor of being selected by the Navy for the second year as the official band to represent them at the Notre Dame-Navy football game.

Speakers' Club

The activities of Speakers' Club are planned to stimulate free speech and democratic debate. Its sixty-five members, former public speaking students, are those who wish to continue speech practice. Lakewood High's participants in the yearly Lake Erie League Speech Contest find in the club an opportunity to develop their skill. In the contest this year Jack Haney was awarded the silver medal for his speech on cooperation between Russia and the United States. Programs consist of impromptu, artistic, and demonstration talks. Frequently members are called upon to assist at school assemblies, vocational and Parent-Teacher meetings, and local service clubs.

Whitman Scriblerus Thespian

Interest in creative writing and in the drama are the requirements for membership in W. S. T. The three interest groups which make up this club are Whitman for poetry, Scriblerus for creative writing, and Thespian for drama study. The programs are planned by the groups in rotation, each one featuring its own particular interest. Original readings by Mrs. Barkman, a demonstration on stage make-up by Mr. Neneman, a competition in creative writing which was won by Elinor Eccles, and projects sponsored by the Cleveland Cinema Club were interesting activities on the program this year. Outstanding work in creative writing is recognized by placing the name of the writer on the Scriblerus Honor Roll.

Agassiz Club

Following in the footsteps of Louis Agassiz, the botanist for whom this club is named, these young lovers of nature increase their biological knowledge by seeing slides, going on hikes in the valley, listening to lectures by club members as well as by outsiders, and by taking trips to such points of interest as the zoo and the morgue. Outstanding contributions have been made by Tom McHugh and Nadine Literaty, who plan to make some phase of biology their vocation.

The Newton Society, whose members are seriously interested in chemistry and physics, is studying problems resulting from the war effort. Aside from satisfying their curiosity over what will happen when one explosive element is mixed with another, these scientifically minded people study and experiment with various poisonous gases, incendiary bombs, and other things concerning Civilian Defense. Guest speakers such as scientist Dr. Antonio Longorio are included on their programs.

Radio Club

Before the war members of the Radio Club made radios and other interesting gadgets and operated their own station. Then came the word "priority" and the law forbidding amateur stations. The need for radios on the far-flung battlefronts of the world made necessary a curtailment of supplies for all radio clubs. But these students still find much to do. In addition to repairing old radios and learning new codes, they make amplifiers for the public address system, communicate with each other through the regular electric light circuits of their homes, and keep up with current experiments in communications. Although they miss not operating their own station, these enthusiasts console themselves with the thought that the radio parts that they have sacrificed are being used in "walkie-talkies" in the jungles of Bougainville, in Flying Fortresses over Europe, in submarines on convoy duty, protecting and informing our soldiers all over the world.

Photo Club

Army technicians state that in five years of war photography has made as much progress as would be made in one hundred years of peace time research. Lakewood High School amateurs have found the Photography Club a medium through which they may keep informed about these rapidly advancing developments. Talks by student members on non-priority materials and their uses round out bi-weekly meetings. In addition to their study of the latest techniques connected with their hobby, members of the Photo Club have been very active in participating in school activities. This group can always be depended upon to sponsor interesting entertainment booths at the all-school parties. The fact that the annual spring exhibit was held in the library again this year is proof that the shortage of material caused by the war has not diminished the interest in amateur photography nor prevented the practice of this most fascinating of hobbies.

Projectionists Club

Have you seen an interesting class movie lately? Do you attend the noon movies? If you do, you owe a debt of gratitude to the Projectionist Staff, who perform many important services for the school by projecting class room films and the noon movie. The Projectionists must be dependable and careful since they handle very expensive equipment and films. Another duty of the staff is to show a preview of the next week's noon film on Saturday for a group of the faculty.

Math Club

Proof that mathematics is not a dull, uninteresting subject is offered by members of the Math Club, who investigate problems and applications of mathematical principles not included in the regular courses of study. Each week a certain interesting phase of algebra, trigonometry, or geometry is inspected and demonstrated. One interesting project this year was solving a mathematical puzzle problem. The members who finished first were awarded cash prizes.

Spanish Club Promotes Pan-American Understanding

Realizing the importance of American solidarity, Spanish Club is trying to promote better relations with our South American neighbors. Members who attend meetings of the Sociedad Hispanica de Cleveland and La Casa Latino Americana receive a better understanding of the problems confronting South America. Reports of these meetings are made to all the members in order to give them an opportunity to see what is being accomplished to cement friendship between two great American continents.

Through contacts with John Scholtz, Bert Parra, and Fernando and Guillermo Solorzano, Latin American students, Spanish Club members have the unusual privilege of practicing hesitating Spanish on real South Americans. Though primarily concerned with improving their Spanish, this year members enjoyed absorbing lectures on Venezuela and Nicaragua by Mrs. Scholtz and Fernando Solorzano, music by Geraldine Eckert, and the baile, the yearly dance. Thus, members enjoy both education and recreation in their monthly meetings.

French Club

What is the future of France? This was the subject upon which Jack Marshall, who is now overseas with the French Colonial Army, spoke to the French Club, Le Cercle Francaise, in December. As the former Lakewood High pupil gave to the members a better understanding of the French people and their present day condition, he expressed his firm conviction that France will live again and take an important place in the post war world. In addition to helpful discussions about France and her problems, the French Club endeavors to aid members to acquire a knowledge of French and keep its memory fresh in the minds of those who are no longer enrolled in French classes. Student participation in the meetings is encouraged through French plays, games, and songs. Members are also interested in the Cleveland organization, Maison Francaise, which is trying to promote better understanding of France.

Latin Club

When a student, ambling down corridors, hears a lusty chorus singing Deus Americam Amet, he knows that the Latin Club is giving its rendition of "God Bless America." In the bi-monthly meetings the members often sing Latin words to well-known songs, thus giving new interest to old favorites. Music is just one of the club's varied interests. Miss Barkley of the Art Department, spoke at one meeting on the contributions of Greek and Roman architecture. Other programs consist of games, such as Nomina, a name game, dancing, and amateur shows. S. P. Q. R. is promoting an understanding of people who speak the Romance languages by a study of the background of the Romans, who spoke the language that is the basis for all Romance languages. The club is a member of The Junior Classical League, the national Latin society, of which there are eight hundred chapters.

Auto Club

Making Lakewood a safer place in which to live is the task of the Lakewood High School Auto Club. This organization, affiliated with the Cleveland AAA, teaches its members invaluable information concerning the care and operation of automobiles. Before obtaining a driver's license in the state of Ohio, a person is required to pass two tests—one consisting of traffic regulations, and the other, a road test. Mr. A. K. Cook is permitted to administer this latter test in the duo-controlled car used by the classes. Many of the meetings of the club are on the lighter side, and at the end of each semester a very successful party is given.

Practice makes perfect.

Preparing high school students for the business world is the purpose of Hi-Commercial Club. Speakers from various local business concerns attend the monthly meetings and give the members invaluable information concerning office practices at the present time and new methods which will be employed in the future. New machines are often demonstrated for the students' benefit in order to acquaint them with their mechanism and usefulness. Thus, in addition to being a social club, the organization aids the students in preparing for interesting and profitable careers.

Art Clubs Meet Varied Interests

One of the oldest clubs in school, the Hi-Art Guild holds a distinguished place among other extra-curricular activities of Lakewood High. Each year Hi-Art Guild undertakes some project for the betterment of the school. This year several old pictures were renovated, after which they were donated to various organizations of the school.

Wartime interest in the development of the art of camouflage led to the organization last year of a Camouflage Club. This group studies problems involved in protective concealment through the models and charts executed by members.

Hi-Forum Discusses World Problems

Stimulating student interest in current world affairs is the aim of Hi-Forum. The problems of creating a lasting peace after the war and those relating to racial prejudice are the topics under discussion this year. Guest speakers have attended meetings and discussed the internal disunity existing within America, the vital position of Russia in the post-war era, and the Jewish racial problem in Arabia. Attendance at Junior Foreign Affairs Council meetings is encouraged for those interested in learning more about the problems of securing a lasting and just peace.

Student Groups Assist Librarians

Outstanding among the service organizations of the school is the Library Staff. Boys and girls who are interested in library work as a profession gain valuable experience through work in the school library. Others find in the Library Staff an opportunity to be of service to the school. Training in filing, checking mail and books, covering magazines, and pasting pockets and date-due slips is given to the students.

At least one student is on duty every period throughout the day. The students that serve before and after school deserve special credit. The library monitor system, sponsored by the Student Council Library Committee, and the permit collectors, recruited from study halls, complete the student program that helps to operate the library efficiently.

Chess Relaxes Mental Giants

Ancient Game Interests Club

Dave Morrison and Warner White are interested in "queens"! Oh, but they're on the chess board. Bishops, kings, queens are the subject of conversation when Chess Club meets every Monday night in the cafeteria. Under the direction of Mr. Galanie, Chess Club has grown out of an interest in one of the world's most fascinating and difficult games, a game whose origin has been lost in antiquity. Recently a tournament was held to determine the top-ranking player of the organization. The result was a tie between President Dave Morrison and Vice-President Warner White. The tournament also helped new members gain experience in the art of chess.

Commencement Night—The End of the Beginning

Highest Senior Award Recognizes Service,

I pledge myself to uphold the high purpose of the society to which I have been elected, striving in every way by word and deed to make its ideals the ideals of my school and of my life.

Honor Society

In an impressive candle-light ceremony the new members of National Honor Society are inducted each semester. Students in the upper third of their class who possess outstanding qualities of leadership, character, and service are recognized in their senior year. To the members comes the privilege of wearing the symbol of the society, the gold torch and keystone. The services of the Honor Society are many and varied. Tutoring, rationing, and helping in giving psychological tests are among these. Continuation of service is the goal of the members while still maintaining their high standards of scholarship, leadership, and character.

BIRTH of VICTORY!

BACK OF THE FIGHTING LINES and long before decisive battles are won, the ground work for Victory is laid in the production of millions of bolts, nuts, cap and set screws, lag screws and lock washers.

American fighting equipment of every kind . . . guns, trucks, planes and ships . . . are being assembled faster, are made more rugged and more resistant to shock and shell with the aid of stronger, tougher and more accurate screw fasteners.

Winning the war is our first consideration, and Wasmer production of Tru-Fit Bolts and Screw Fasteners is contributing greatly to shortening the war and speeding the return of Peace.
